FAIL TO FIND TRACE OF BRITISH FLYER!

FOREST FIRE SITUATION IMPROVES

Saugus Blaze About Out And Those In North Now Under Control

LOS ANGELES, July 17.—Fire in the Saugus district of Santa Barbara forest is out with the exception of a small blaze in King canyon, forestry officials reported here today.

The King canyon fire covers a strip a quarter of a mile wide and a mile long and is burning in a densely wooded section. Unless winds are unfavorable, this fire will be well under control before night, officials said.

Continue in North

Although the situation was generally improved, forest fires continued to blaze on the Pacific coast today in widely separated sectors. Northeastern Washington and California were the scenes of the principal fires today.

In California four great fires were still burning, although somewhat under control, and a half dozen lesser fires smoldering and requiring watchfulness.

Conscription of men had practically ceased in the fire zones today, but in Northern California most of the industries in the regions affected closed down and sent their forces of workmen to relieve the tired fire fighters, many of whom had been on the "line" for days.

Travel Difficult

Dense smoke hangs over some parts of the state, making travel difficult on some roads.

The four big fires in California are in the Sierra, Tahoe, Shasta and Santa Barbara national forests.

The Bull Run fire in Sequoia national forest was completely controlled today, it was announced by the United States forester's office, and the force of men on the ground there has been reduced to sixty. Prospects of completely stamping it out were said to be good.

Continue Moving Towards Start of City Sewer System

The Los Angeles City Council yesterday passed an ordinance granting the city of Glendale permission to put sewers through certain streets within the Los Angeles city limits, and Virgil B. Stone, Glendale city manager, this morning received a copy of the ordinance.

The Glendale City Council recently passed a similar ordinance, granting the city of Los Angeles permission to put sewers through certain streets within the Glendale city limits.

With the amended contract between the two cities now signed, whereby Los Angeles gives Glendale permission to join on to their main outfall sewer, and whereby Glendale agrees to construct a sewer system which is to cost approximately $1,600,000, one of the last remaining steps prior to actual launching of this great project has been taken Mr. Stone points out.

Only a few technicalities now stand in the way of issuance of the bonds and letting of the contracts, he states.

BIG LOSS AT ST. LOUIS BY CYCLONE

Damage May Total Several Millions; Public Service Out of Commission

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 17.—A cyclonic storm swept over St. Louis this morning, snapping off trees and telephone poles, damaging buildings and crippling wire and power services.

Scores of fires, set by fallen live wires, brought an additional menace, the fire department being handicapped by the paralyzing of the alarm system.

Later today, as reports were tabulated, it was said the damage may reach a total of several million dollars. Thousands of buildings throughout the city were damaged.

The telephone company reported more than 8000 telephones out of commission.

Ruling of Court Hits Movie Theatre Owners

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 17.—Proprietors of motion picture houses must pay music publishers a fee for the use of their copyrighted songs or suffer damages for infringement of the music, Judge J. Whittaker Thompson ruled in United States district court here this afternoon.

BANQUET SPEAKERS URGE IMMEDIATE CONSTRUCTION OF VALLEY ROAD SYSTEM

Chain of Highways Would Relieve Congestion Of Traffic and Prove of Great Benefit in Continuing Development, Are Claims

The vital importance to the San Fernando valley and to every city in it of the immediate construction of a system of highways that will facilitate traffic and relieve the present rapidly increasing congestion was emphasized at the banquet that was held at Oakmont Country club last night and at which the objects of the Greater San Fernando Valley association were explained in the campaign to enlist the support and co-operation of the people of Glendale.

A. Z. Taft, president of the association, who was introduced by George B. Karr, Glendale director, acted as toastmaster, and in his address declared that the San Fernando Valley is "bottled up" for the lack of easy means of communication with other cities in this region. The association, he stated, has adopted a definite program, for the development of the valley, and a highway system comes first, with the other projects, such as parks and sewers, to be taken up as quickly as possible.

Separation of Grades

The separation of the grades at Los Feliz Road and the Southern Pacific tracks was mentioned by Mr. Taft as one of the possibilities in the construction of improved boulevards, and he also suggested that the grades be separated at Los Feliz and San Fernando Roads.

Several factors are to be overcome before traffic conditions can be remedied, according to H. S. Ryerson, secretary of the Los Angeles traffic commission, the chief of these being unscientific width of streets as they exist today, the improper use of streets, the need for the segregation of traffic, and natural obstructions.

For Heavy Trucking

The construction of a trunk line reserved for heavy trucking, from the valley clear through to Los Angeles harbor, is one of the methods that will tend to relieve the present situation, Mr. Ryerson declared, and other highways should be reserved for passenger cars.

The three major projects on which the association is concentrating now are Riverside drive, Victory boulevard and Sepulveda boulevard, said Robert L. Hanley, deputy city attorney of Los Angeles. Of these, Riverside drive, lying along the west side of Glendale, is tied in with the flood control of Pacoima and Tujunga washes and will mean that parts of the Los Angeles river must be diverted into a new bed, and its construction will afford an entry into the valley that is sorely needed now.

Victory boulevard, running at the river level through the valley, will connect with Riverside drive and will afford the only highway, Mr. Hanley said, that

PARCEL POST VEGETABLE CARRIER

Glendale Man Develops New Industry Through Uncle Sam's Aid

A new industry has sprung up in Glendale, according to Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson. It is the selling of vegetables by parcel post.

While the name of the shipper and receiver is held to be confidential matter and not made public by the postoffice department, it has been learned that upwards to 1000 pounds of fresh vegetables are being shipped out of Glendale each week to Tonopah, Nev.

Via Parcel Post

The shipments are made via parcel post, and the vegetables are packed in crates and ordinary packing cases. Deliveries are in good order, according to word received from Tonopah.

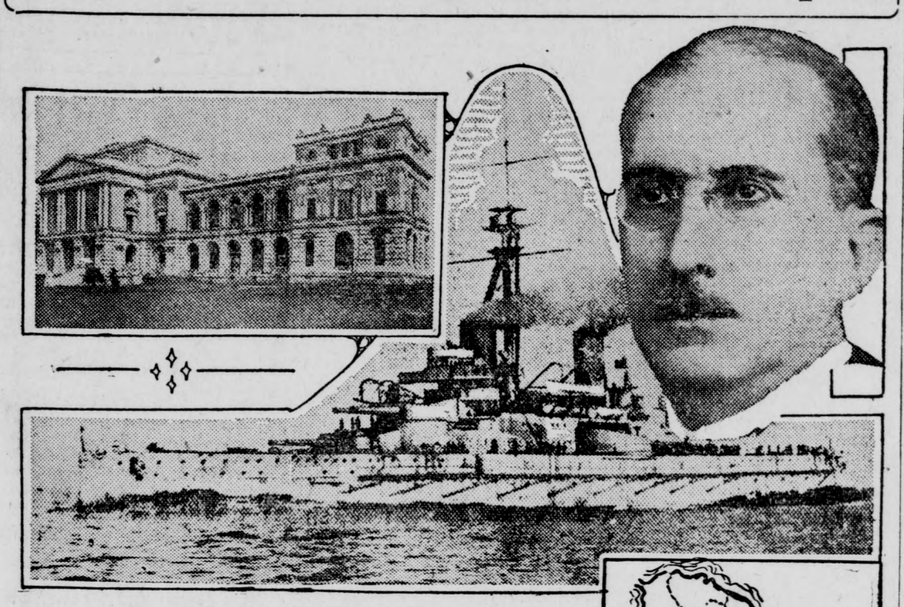
It is understood a commission firm of Tonopah has sent an agent here to purchase fresh vegetables on the open market and ship them to Tonopah, where they are retailed. The cost of the vegetables here, plus the parcel post rates, makes the total buying cost lower than quotations made on vegetables closer to Tonopah, according to information received by Postmaster Jackson.

Increase In Revenue

These shipments add materially to the revenue of the local postoffice, Postmaster Jackson declares, the postage on vegetables running as high as $20 a week.

Parcel post shipments from the Glendale office have shown a large increase in the last few weeks, Postmaster Jackson said. On one day the shipments from three firms by parcel post amounted to 1931 pounds, he said.

Revolt Threatens To Give Brazil New Capital



Consummation of an idea which has been fostered in Sao Paulo for some time that the state should declare its independence from the federal government at Rio de Janeiro and become Brazil's capital, is believed to be the cause of the rebellion which has broken out in the largest of the South American republics.

The revolt is centered in Sao Paulo, a city of 597,000, and the chief trade center of the world's richest coffee trade area, containing almost 3,000,000 people. It is situated immediately southeast of Rio de Janeiro and in from the seacoast (see map above), having as its seaport Santos, through which coffee is passed from the hinterland.

The Museum of Ipyranga (left), in Sao Paulo, marks the site of the declaration of freedom from Portuguese rule, which was followed by the establishment of the empire. This in turn became the present republic.

The uprising has already cost several thousand lives and much property damage. The Brazilian battleship Minas Gereas (center) is at Santos to aid in the bombardment of the city, and the president, Dr. Arthur Bernardes (above), is preparing to wield martial law throughout Brazil.

COMMITTEES ACTIVE ON PLANS FOR ANNUAL SYNOD

More Than 1000 Delegates Will Be Present at Gathering at Glendale Presbyterian Church, July 24 to 31, According to Estimates

Members of sixteen committees are making all necessary arrangements for housing, entertaining and caring for more than 1000 delegates from California, Arizona and Nevada who will be in Glendale July 24 to 31 to attend the annual synod which will be held at the Glendale Presbyterian church on these dates.

Rev. W. E. Edmonds, pastor of the church, is general chairman in charge of the arrangements. These committee members are busily engaged in looking after details necessary to make the synod one of the most successful gatherings in the history of the church, and the church office at Harvard and Louise streets today resembles a giant beehive, with the workers busy on synod detail matters.

Plan For Program

The synod will open next Thursday night, July 24, and sessions will be held on the following seven days with the final meeting on the night of July 31.

Preceding the synod on Thursday will be the all-day meeting of the Federated Women's Aid Society of the Los Angeles Presbytery. On Saturday, July 26, there will be a special men's banquet, served at the church, and special services will be held the following day.

The members of the women's societies of the church will serve lunch and dinner at the church each day the synod is in session, it has been announced by Dr. Edmonds.

Appeal For Rooms

The response to the appeal for aid in housing the delegates has been exceptionally good, Dr. Edmonds reported. Other churches in the city have come to the rescue and the assurance that the delegates will be cared for while here is seen. Some of the delegates will be cared for at the dormitories at Occidental college, which others will be accommodated in Pasadena, Hollywood and Los Angeles.

Many automobile parties are expected here for the synod, as it is possible the majority of delegates from California points will drive to Glendale in their automobiles, and many are expected to make the trip from Arizona and Nevada in automobiles. Dr. Edmonds has asked the aid of city officials in finding parking spaces for the large number of cars expected at the church each day of the meeting.

COUNCIL PASSES MULE ORDINANCE

East Acacia Camp Conducted By Peter Ferry to Go, Promise of Mayor

The Glendale City Council this morning passed the amended ordinance regulating the keeping of horses, mules and other animals within the city limits, as introduced before the council at the session of Thursday, July 10. The ordinance will be in effect after thirty days. Temporary permits for that period were granted to all who might otherwise be liable to arrest in the interim, for violating the present ordinance.

Following passage of the amended ordinance, Mayor Spencer Robinson told the thirty residents along East Acacia avenue who were present in the council chamber, headed by W. E. Howell of 624 East Acacia avenue, that Peter L. Ferry of 614 East Acacia avenue would be obliged to remove his grading camp from that location to comply with the terms of the amended ordinance. Mr. Ferry had spoken to him and had expressed his willingness to do this, Mayor Robinson said.

Express Thanks

Thereupon Mr. Howell and his delegation gave the Glendale City Council a rising vote of thanks "for this action to protect health and property."

This ends a fight of over a year on the part of property owners along East Acacia avenue to induce Peter L. Ferry to remove his grading camp to a section of the city not given over to residences and schools.

DESTROYERS SEARCHING SEA FOR AVIATOR

Stuart MacLaren and Two Companions Safe, Is Belief of Officials

LONDON, July 17.—No trace has been found of A. Stuart MacLaren, British round-the-world flier, and his two companions who are missing somewhere along the dreary 450 mile stretch of the Pacific ocean between Yetorofu island and Paramashiru island.

Failure of Japanese destroyers to find trace of the airman or plane was reported today in dispatches from Tokio, which said the search was being continued.

A dispatch from Tokio at noon today said there was still no trace of MacLaren's plane. At that time he had been missing more than thirty hours.

British officials, however, do not believe the royal air force expedition has met with disaster. Instead, they believe MacLaren came down because of foggy weather and expect to get news from him soon from Broughton bay in Shimushiru island, where an emergency supply base has been established for just such a misfortune as has apparently overtaken the British flier.

Wife Is Optimistic

Color was lent to this view by Japanese advices which said the weather was cloudy, but calm and windless.

One of the most optimistic of those awaiting word from the far-off Kuriles islands is Mrs. Stuart MacLaren, wife of the British air commander. She said she had "faith in MacLaren's ability to come through."

With MacLaren are Lieutenant William Plenderleith, a pilot, and Sergeant R. Andrews, engineer.

Sustains Fracture Of Skull In Fall From Moving Train

Mrs. Bert Toland, whose address is given as 638 West Salem street, Glendale, is in the Receiving hospital in Los Angeles with a basal fracture of the skull which she received when she is said to have stepped from a rapidly moving Pacific Electric train at Glendale boulevard and Glenhurst avenue.

The injured woman was given first aid at the Montesano hospital and was then rushed to the Receiving hospital, where her condition is regarded as very grave.

Motorman H. C. Porter and Conductor H. Sutton were in charge of the car from which Mrs. Toland is said to have stepped.

American Flyers Prepare For Trip Across Country

BROUGH, England, July 17.—The American 'round-the-world diers reached here from Croydon at 1 o'clock this afternoon. The flight required one hour and forty-three minutes.

A stop of eight or ten days will be made at Brough while the planes are fitted with pontoons for the jump across the Atlantic, and the engines are thoroughly overhauled.

With 16,000 miles behind them and less than 7000 ahead, the fliers were in a cheerful mood today.

One of the first things the fliers did at Hull was to inspect the new pontoons.

"We have no fears for the future now," Lieutenant Smith said. "We hope to have a week of rest and quiet, and we'll be fit then for the Atlantic crossing."

Lieutenant Smith declared he felt sure Stuart MacLaren, British 'round-the-world flier, who is overdue at Paramashiru island, in the Kuriles, is not lost.

LOS ANGELES, July 17.—R. C. Hadley, a resident of Oregon City, Oregon, was instantly killed near Banning, Cal., today when he fell from a train, according to word received here by officials of the Southern Pacific railroad.

System Of Traffic Arrests Wrong In 90 Per Cent Of Cases, Tends To Harden Law-Abiding Citizens

The check-up by Chief of Police Fraser, published in yesterday's Evening News, on the speed of cars in Glendale, was a matter of valuable information to the public, and shows that the 20-mile limit for driving on boulevards is not taken into account at the present time. The chief's check-up showed: 22 cars making 31 miles per hour; 49 cars, 33 miles per hour; 1 car, 34 miles per hour; 6 cars, 36 miles per hour; 4 cars, 37 miles per hour.

Traffic congestion has become so great that it is impossible for auto drivers to remain within the 20-mile or even the 30-mile limit and keep the road clear of congestion. It is the slow, inexperienced driver who is blocking traffic today. The careful fast driver is the one who is clearing the road of automobiles at any given time in proportion to the speed he can drive safely.

On all boulevards in Southern California, auto drivers have speeded up in the past few years. H ndreds of cars are driving on country roads at from 30 to 45 miles per hour. The slow driver, or the one who would keep within the limitation prescribed ten years ago, and still in force, finds himself in the way, and, if he wishes to avoid accidents, he must join the great chorus of drivers in degree of speed. He, like the singer in the choir who keeps several notes back, causes much discord.

If traffic officers will perform their duty with an aim to lessen accidents they will not be spending time following a safe driver for a $25 or $35 revenue for the city. If there really are signs of danger of accident in the so-called speeder, it should be the duty of the officer to immediately ride in front of the car he thinks is likely to cause an accident, and thus avert its occurrence. The wise and trusted officer will always act promptly to avoid accidents, and will not follow the danger until he can earn a $35 charge for the city. The mother does not f llow her child to the verge of the precipice, but she hurries to get between the child and the point of danger. She is possessed with real motherly love.

The whole system of traffic arrests is wrong in 90 per cent of the cases, and tends only to harden the well-meaning, good, law-abiding citizen. The words from a judge: "Mr. Officer, take this young man in charge—$30 or go to jail," has a reaction that is everything but good upon the person who has prided himself in being a real American citizen. He has driven no faster than 80 per cent of the people are driving today. He has witnessed city officials, bankers and state representatives drive at the same speed upon stated occasions. From the day of that arrest he feels that he has been placed on the records as a law-breaker.

That young man growing up in a community deserves more consideration. If he is not competent to drive he should not be allowed to do so. The announcement of a fine or a jail sentence is a harsh statement to fall upon the ears of the average well-meaning young man. Let such statements to the young be avoided so long as possible. The adult, with his knowledge of human nature and the knowledge of the injustice of decisions made by those who may mean well, but who are not in touch with the subject in hand, is wise enough to know that he is not guilty of breaking a law. But beware of crushing the spirit of the young American without sufficient cause.

In conclusion, The Evening News wishes to be put on record as disapproving of all forms of reckless driving, and would urge that every driver of an automobile consider carefully the importance of the trust placed in his hands when he is granted a permit to drive a car.

GARBAGE AS FUEL IN POWER PLANT

E. E. Jefferson Claims City's Refuse Would Furnish Electric Needs

That the garbage and refuse that is collected from the residences and business houses of Glendale can be made to furnish a large percentage of the power needed to run a municipal auxiliary electric plant is the claim of Elmer E. Jefferson, 471 Pioneer drive, Glendale.

"In my old home town, Minneapolis, Minn.," says Mr. Jefferson, "this method is being used and has been used for some time. By this means the garbage is disposed of in a manner that protects the health of the city and power is supplied through the city's electrical plant to the consumers.

"I believe that the city authorities of Glendale, as well as the service clubs and other civic organizations, would find it worth while to investigate the matter of disposing of the city's refuse by this means. I am a newcomer here, but I have already realized the necessity for taking some action that will protect the city in a matter as grave as the present power shortage, and with the cooperation of all the Glendale agencies I believe that this problem could be worked out satisfactorily."

VALLEY HIGHWAY SYSTEM SOUGHT

Association Holds Banquet And Hears Speakers Point Out Needs

can ever be built to connect all the valley cities, and this also will provide an entry into Los Angeles.

Publicity, Good Roads

Sepulveda boulevard, running from Sylmar on San Fernando road on a direct route to the harbor, will give a highway fifty miles long that will relieve drivers of the necessity of "bucking" the downtown Los Angeles traffic, as at present. The importance to Glendale of a route to the beaches over Riverside drive, to Victory boulevard and Sepulveda boulevard, through Lankershim, that would permit autoists to reach the ocean in twenty minutes from Lankershim, he said, could readily be grasped.

"Scientific publicity and good roads are the only ways to attract new citizens," declared Willis Owen, industrial analyst, who praised a recent advertisement of Glendale carried in one of the Los Angeles papers, and which he declared should have made two more claims. These two things are the assertions that Glendale has good roads into the San Fernando valley and that it is marching to prosperity.

Facts and Figures

The cash value to a community of every newcomer, he asserted, is $2780, and every newcomer repays the community $5 for every $1 spent on publicity. Every mile of new highway adds $1,000,000 to values in any region, and, with the addition of the 50,000 population that Glendale is seeking, it will increase its values $139,000,000.

Los Angeles, said Mr. Owen, is losing $50,000,000 yearly through traffic congestion, and this figure is growing at the rate of $7,000,000 yearly.

Other speakers were Senator Frank P. Flint, who urged more bridges to permit access to Los Angeles from Glendale, and George Bunton, secretary of the Van Nuys Chamber of Commerce.

Attorney Bert P. Woodard, who was called on by Mr. Karr to reply to the speeches of the guests, pledged Glendale's cooperation in every project that will work for the valley's benefit.

ADVERTISING FOR CITY CONTINUES

Story Published In Local Sheet Turns Out to Be Faked Yarn

A local publication, NOT The Glendale Evening News, yesterday made its feature story on page 1 to the effect that Glendale's national advertising campaign had ceased because, it was said, the advertising finances had been exhausted.

Paul E. Stillman, chairman of the advertising committee, today sent a communication to this newspaper in which he stated that the story was "so erroneous and misleading that the advertising committee craves an opportunity to correct it." The advertising committee, evidently, comes to The Evening News in order that the denial might receive wide circulation. The advertising committee, through Chairman Stillman, says:

"In reporting to the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, Tuesday evening, we stated that the advertising committee had been authorized by the Board of Control to run four half page ads in the Los Angeles newspapers; that we had done this and had discontinued further newspaper advertising until we were given further authorization.

"Our advertising funds, instead of being exhausted are abundant. All bills are paid and we have a cash balance of $3500 in the bank besides the $5000 subscription for the city of Glendale, making $8500 now available, with payments on subscriptions coming in generously each month.

"We wish the people to know that we have just begun to advertise Glendale and have plenty of funds to carry on our work."

Incidentally, the advertising which Glendale has been doing—and will continue to do—in Los Angeles newspapers received high praise at the San Fernando Valley association banquet held last night at the Oakmont club.

GIVES REPORT ON CLUB CONVENTION

J. Herbert Smith Tells of Rotary Meeting Held at Toronto, Canada

The report on the Rotary International convention held at Toronto, Canada, in June, was submitted to the Rotary club at today's luncheon in the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse by J. Herbert Smith, the delegate from Glendale. One feature of the address of the retiring president, Guy Gundaker, from which Mr. Smith quoted at length, was the influence that Rotary can exercise in bringing about world peace by a better and closer relationship of the world's business men, and the cultivation of world fellowship through higher standards of business practice among the members.

R. E. Downing, in reporting on the organization of the Glendale unit of the Angeles Forest Protective association, stated that he considered it better that the Rotarians should join the organization as individuals, rather than as members of Rotary, a stand which was endorsed by President Smith.

Fraternity Grows

A. L. Ferguson, delegate to the International Kiwanis convention at Denver spoke of the spirit of fraternity that was evidenced at that meeting by the messages of greeting from the Rotary and other organizations.

Visitors at today's luncheon were E. J. Blank, Cushing, Okla.; Reuben Merryman, Los Angeles; E. J. Doncaster, Raymond, Wash.; Will R. Forker, Los Angeles; Leonard Collins, Burbank; William McIntyre, Los Angeles; Clark Dilley, Roswell, N. M.; Charles M. Hagler, Salina, Kan.; and H. Weston Burt and W. Stevenson, both of Portsmouth, Eng., and both of whom addressed the meeting. Dr. Harry W. Brown and Jack Wilson, Glendale, were presented by their hosts.

Yanks Not Used to This Kissing Game At End of Battle

PARIS, July 17.—What is worrying the American boxers most at the present time is how to receive the traditional kisses given by European boxers when they are defeated.

Jack Fields, the Los Angeles high school boy, presented a bloody face after he had been kissed by Hansen, whom he had defeated, and whose face he had cut up.

There is no lack of sportsmanship between sounds of the gong at the Velodrome. The French spectators take defeat as well as victory in the same spirit. French officials are treating all competitors with courtesy and fairness.

ATTORNEY TO BE CITY'S MANAGER

Ray Morrow to Act While V. B. Stone Is Taking Annual Vacation

The matter of employing a Los Angeles auditing company to audit the books of the city of Glendale for the new fiscal year, at a flat charge of $600, was held over until August 14, pending the return of V. B. Stone, city manager, who was today granted by the City Council a vacation of twelve working days, starting Monday, July 21. During Mr. Stone's absence, Ray L. Morrow, city attorney, will take his place as city manager, the council ruled.

A request by City Manager Stone that $90,000 be transferred from the reserve fund to carry current expenses until returns from the 1924-25 taxes begin to come in was granted by the council. The council also granted the request of Mr. Stone that an existing surplus of approximately $25,000 be carried into the general fund.

Up to Commission

Following Mr. Stone's report that he had been unsuccessful in getting the Pacific Electric company to place a wig-wag at the Pacific avenue crossing, the council moved that the city attorney take up the matter with the State Railroad commission.

A vacation of twelve working days was granted to every city employe who has worked for the city of Glendale one consecutive year. The council donated $150 to the Glendale Welfare Council.

Bids for the improvement of Central avenue, Sierra avenue, Tyler street and Adams street were opened and referred to the city engineer for checking and report. All protests were denied on the issuance of bonds for the improvement of Thompson avenue, San Fernando road, Irving and Fourth streets; and all protests were denied on the assessment for improvement of Kenilworth avenue and on the improvement of Viola and Grover avenues.

Legion Boxing Matches

Permit was granted the American Legion post to conduct boxing matches.

The cash bond of $1500 put up by E. Holland was refunded, when it was shown he had abated his automobile camp, as agreed.

Discussion on the ordinance regulating erection of billboards within the Glendale city limits, introduced at the session of July 10, was laid over until the session of July 24. Ordinances of intention to widen Tyler street and to set aside certain industrial districts were adopted. Resolutions ordering the improvement of Viola street, Grover avenue and other streets were passed, and resolutions of intention to improve Forest avenue and Canada boulevard were passed, together with resolutions adopting plans and plats for the improvement of these streets.

BALBOA HEIGHTS, Panama, July 17.—Four laborers were dead today and several in a critical condition as a result of an explosion in the hold of the salvaged Pacific Mail liner Columbia, where the men were working. Gas emanating from decomposed coffee in the hold was responsible for the explosion.

One of the injured was Sheppard Shreeves, diver-hero, who rescued the American sailors imprisoned in the submarine O-5, which sank off Cristobal last fall. His condition is serious.

Members of the Glendale Advancement association, at the regular meeting held today noon at the Harriett Mae Tea room, indorsed the report of the sub-committee on the Citizens' Bond committee on additional fire stations and equipment, and instructed the association's representative, R. Mr. Jaacke, named as the association's leader in the forest fire protection unit, named J. F. McClish as captain of the unit and instructed him to select the necessary number of men for the squad. C. PLANS OUTLINED TO COMBAT FIRE

Glendale Forest Protective Unit Discusses Methods To Train Crews

Concrete plans for the protection of Glendale and the surrounding hill country, in the event of forest fires, were outlined last night at a meeting fo the Glendale unit of the Angeles Forest Protective association, held at the City Hall. The meeting was presided over by P. J. Hayselden, chief of the unit. W. J. Curren, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce fire committee, was on the platform. There were fifty present.

C. G. Dunwoody, prseident of the association, was unable to be present, owing to the stress of his duties in the fire areas; and county officials Mr. Hayselden had hoped to have present were likewise unavoidably absent. The meeting therefore resolved itself into an informal discussion of ways and means to bring the Glendale unit to such a point of efficiency that in the event of a local fire large numbers of volunteers could be effectively handled.

Need Experienced Leaders

It was agreed by unanimous vote that the City Council should back up the work of the unit and lend such financial and moral support as might be necessary. The principal needs are equipment and experienced fire-fighters to act as crew leaders, it was brought out. At present, T. W. Curl of the street department and J. F. Rowell of the water department are the only leaders whose crews are practically formed and equipped.

It is hoped to have at least ten full crews when the organization is complete, Mr. Hayselden told the gathering. This would include crews from the various service clubs, large corporations and other local groups.

Chief A. H. Lankford of the Glendale fire department was present and spoke of the need for trained volunteers to handle forest fires, the regular firemen being needed at all times on city apparatus. W. D. Heidler of Glendale, a member of the county fire warden's staff, showed how inexperience brought disaster in the recent Pine canyon fire.

Arrange Fire Alarm

The matter of closing the canyons to picnickers and campers was discussed. John R. Powers of Glen Oaks and P. J. Cannon of Rossmoyne spoke on this subject, stating that their companies were willing to do anything for the best interests of the city of Glendale. They agreed that certain trails might well be closed, leaving the main parks of the subdivisions open.

Mr. Hayselden stated that he proposes to go over the Verdugo Hills on horseback with county wardens, outlining all the fire trails and breaks, so that the Glendale unit of the Angeles Forest Protective association may know the lay of the land.

Arrangements have been made with the Fox-Woodsum and Bentley Lumber companies to sound a siren in the event a fire is discovered, calling the men of the unit and volunteers to a central spot.

Citizens Charge Present Enforcement Of Traffic Laws Injures Glendale

The Glendale Evening News does not, ordinarily, pay attention to communications not signed by the writer, together with his or her address. However, this newspaper has just received two communications relative to the traffic situation, neither one signed, and both are, because of the circumstances, published herewith.

It so happens that The Glendale Evening News knows the writer of one of the communications, and he informs this newspaper that "if the police judge or the mayor wants it, give my name and address."

The writer of the other communication is not known to this newspaper. However, his reason —or perhaps it's a woman—for not signing the communication is made plain.

Here are the two letters, also a third which is signed:

Make Glendale Safe For Motorist, Plea

Editor The Evening News— For some time there has been a slogan that became quite popular, not only in America but outside its shores as well, "Making the world safe for democracy." As it is beginning to suffer from senile decay, why not get a new one— and start it right here in Glendale and perhaps it, too, will get outside our city limits where some motorist feels like staying.

I would suggest "Making Glendale Safe for the Motorist." This will include democracy, for it is a noteworthy fact that any onlooker can verify by attending court —sometimes he doesn't have to— as nearly all the compulsory visitors there are those who have to earn their bread by the sweat of their faces and who wouldn't hurt a neighbor's cat if they knew it —unless, of course, that feline was not recognizing the gentleman's agreement of allowing its neighbor to sleep when he wants to, a privilege that the cats like to enjoy.

Enmity Growing

I wish our City Council could get out and associate a little with the motoring public outside Glendale and see the feeling of indignation and distaste for Glendale that is getting to be more and more evident every day. I will just call to your attention two instances that came to my notice during the past month.

At one of the wholesale houses in Los Angeles where I have business, I was greeted one day by the head of a department with "You don't catch me going through Glendale again." Then he told me of coming west on Colorado street and turning south on Brand boulevard and how the officer stopped him at the first block on Brand and charged him with driving over 30 miles an hour.

He resented it, naturally, as he felt it was impossible to get up that speed in a block, but he was told that if he didn't sign the card that he would have to come right in then. So he signed—and later went in and paid $30.

Glendale Shopper

On another occasion I was doing some business with a firm in Los Angeles for the first time, and when I had finished and wrote out my check for the goods, the gentleman said, "Oh, you're from Glendale! I had rather a poor experience there a couple of weeks ago. My wife got sick. We live in Eagle Rock, and I was hurrying home and passed through Glendale, and of course, while trying to shun trouble, I was naturally making the best speed I thought safe, but I was caught. When I appeared in court the judge said, 'Guilty or not guilty?' and I knew there was no good making a fuss, so I pleaded guilty and paid $30.

"I was amused at a lady who had been up there for some offense. She said, 'Well, judge, I am very often in town and this is my first offense and I was not aware that I was doing wrong.' The judge said, 'So you do your shopping in Glendale?' and she said, 'Yes, judge, I do.' He said, 'Fifteen dollars, and suspend the sentence.' "

Now I am not an advocate of destructive criticism, but rather constructive, and I think as the immortal Burns said, "If we could see ourselves as others see us, it would from many a blunder free us."

Why should the fastest growing city in America be stigmatized as this beautiful city is by last year's record of fines collected, mostly unreasonably, from the motoring public?

Revenue Arrests Made Daily, Writer Claims

Editor The Evening News:— What has become of the Glendale Traffic Commission? Has it died the death of a rag doll? If the City Council wanted a way to insult reputable business men they could offer no greater insult than to ask them to spend their time working out reasonable traffic regulations and then pay no attention whatever to their findings. Meanwhile the "revenue arrests" go merrily on. Men going to work in the morning along Colorado and Glendale boulevards, not in any way jeopardizing the safety of any human being or even a dog, are arrested every day in increasing numbers. This works a hardship on many of these men and most of them are not residents of Glendale, for almost all Glendale people know the haunts of the traffic officers—behind the bus on Kenneth road, behind the trees on Maple street, behind the real estate office on Colorado and Cedar. You will note it is always BEHIND something.

Elks Rap Glendale

Sunday evening a young chap was arrested because, while his lights were all on, they were not bright enough. No warning to have them fixed, but the traffic officer, who is judge and jury of how much the fine shall be, put him down for a $10 fine. An onlooker asked the boy about it, and he said he worked where they were laying men off all the time. One fellow, ten minutes late, was discharged. He said he could not possibly appear without losing his job, and could not spare $10. The "newcomer" onlooker advised him to write a letter to Judge Lowe, explaining the situation. We "old-timers" would expect as much from writing the Sphinx.

It has come to a fine state of affairs when the committee for the Elks picnic of Los Angeles made the following report: "Sunland seems the best place, only we have to ask you to pass through Glendale." Fine name for Glendale. If we don't watch out we will have to change the slogan to "Fastest Growing Disliked."

City Is Sufferer

No one is grouching about the necessary enforcement of traffic regulations for public safety. It is the law-abiding citizen who intends to do right who suffers almost invariably. It does seem as if there should be some power in Glendale strong enough to stop these "revenue arrests." Nothing will kill a town sooner. Witness Culver City.

While I am not in favor of anonymous letters, and have so far been lucky enough to escape the traffic toils, I do not want the whole force laying for me, as they are perfectly capable of doing, so feel justified in signing

A SUBSCRIBER.

Glendale Shunned by West Coast Autoists

Editor The Evening News—It will merit the gratitude of most of your readers if you can abate the daily highway robbery of the traffic cops and higher ups.

No matter what rate a man is driving, he is charged with thirty miles an hour for that means a fine of $25.

Have the cops ever been known to pinch those who cause accidents? No, they pinch the business man going twenty-two miles an hour to his business and the workman from whom they extract a week's wages. But did you ever hear of a Pasadena bus being pinched as they elbow their way through traffic at thirty-five miles an hour? Not so you would notice it. The bus line has its lawyer.

After the morning harvest, the cops settle down to "nicking" shoppers and customers $5 each if they park their car one minute over the hour, and pick up a little small change from those parking an inch over an alley line. The robbery has been figured at $150,000 a year for Glendale. Somebody gets it. Up and down the coast Glendale is being shunned by motorists as people shun a skunk. Who can estimate the business that is lost to Glendale every day?

On the other hand, homes are steadily burglarized. Of course, the cops cannot hold up the home owners until they come out in their cars, so they should worry what the crooks do. Besides the crooks might hit back and it takes two cops even to give a ticket to a Ford.

I hope you will not weaken in the campaign you have started against the harassing of citizens and visitors by the traffic cops.

Yours truly,
R. H. GOODELL.

NEW FIXTURES OF POSTOFFICE LOST

Car Shipped From Factory At San Francisco Has Not Arrived Here

The opening of the new postoffice for Glendale, situated on East Broadway between Jackson and Kenwood street, has been delayed by the apparent disappearance of a carload of fixtures shipped from the factory at San Francisco, Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson said today.

Word was received several days ago at the local postoffice that the fixtures had been completed in accordance with the specifications furnished by the local office and the department at Washington. It is thought the car was misdirected or has been shunted on a sidetrack somewhere between San Francisco and Glendale. Railroad officials have been asked to send tracers in an effort to locate the car and direct its movement immediately to Glendale.

Putting in Lockers

As soon as the fixtures arrive a crew of workmen from the factory will begin the installation process and will rush the job to completion in order that the postoffice may be moved from its present location to the new quarters as soon as possible.

New steel lockers are being installed at the new building, and the steel lockers now in use at the present location will be transferred as soon as possible. There will be approximately 100 lockers for employes in the new building, Postmaster Jackson said.

The notification speech will be delivered by Frank W. Mondell, of Wyoming, chairman of the notification committee and chairman of the recent Republican convention at Cleveland.

Charles G. Dawes, vice-presidential candidate, will be officially notified at his home in Evanston, Illinois, Tuesday, August 19, Butler announced. The notification speech will be delivered by A. W. Jeffries of Nebraska.

INCREASES SCHEDULE

BOSTON, Mass., July 17.—The Chicopee factory of the Fisk Rubber company reopened on a five-day schedule this week instead of the three-day schedule in effect when the plant closed two weeks ago. The Firestone, one Epeley rubber plant at Hudson, which has been on a five-day schedule, has closed for three weeks.

New members who have joined the Glendale Presbyterian church during the last three months are to be honored with a reception tonight at the church. George D. McDill is general chairman of the affair, and is being assisted by several committees.

The program will begin at 8 o'clock and will be featured by music and monologues by Harry James. All members and friends of the church are invited to attend and become acquainted with the sixty-seven new members.

CAFE PURCHASED BY TWO L. A. MEN

Will Reopen Establishment Tomorrow; Enlargements Soon Are Planned

The Three B cafe at 235 South Brand boulevard has been purchased by A. L. Hall and J. O'Brien of Los Angeles, who will re-open the establishment on July 18, after making extensive alterations. They also plan to enlarge the restaurant to include the space to the rear of the building formerly occupied by the Court Motor company.

Mr. Hall has been with the Dinty Moore restaurant of Los Angeles for several years, and will serve the same style of corned beef and corned beef hash that has made the Dinty Moore restaurant famous. Quick lunches for the business men will be the specialty of the cafe under the new management.

A lease has been taken on the entire building, and the work of remodeling and refinishing the cafe will start immediately, the managers announce. The room to the rear will be furnished to properly handle club luncheons and to facilitate the serving of dinners to business men's organizations.

The transaction was completed by O. H. Russell of Gilhuly & Russell, 212 South Brand boulevard.

Anti-Alien Law Will Be Tested in Courts

LOS ANGELES, July 17.—In the case of Carter vs. Utley, appealed from the superior court of Imperial county, the state attorney general's office is preparing to make a decided stand in support of the latest amended alien land laws which prohibit cropping contracts. Ernest Utley is district attorney at El Centro and his move to stop Carter's contract with Japanese farmers was thwarted by the local judge. The case is expected to test the law's constitutionality and will be carried to the United States supreme court if necessary, as has other anti-alien land legislation, it was indicated. The supreme court will hear the case July 22, according to Erwin W. Widney, assistant attorney general here.

NEED OF SCHOOLS TO BE STRESSED

Open Air Meeting in Lake District Planned By Improvement Body

The need for a school for the children of Lake district will be stressed at an open-air meeting that is to be held tonight, Thursday, July 17, at the corner of Lake and Western avenues, at 7:30 o'clock, according to an announcement by I. J. Hoover, president of the Northwestern Improvement association, who, with Secretary W. R. Faires, has been completing plans for the rally.

"The members of the association," declares Mr. Hoover, "are unanimously in favor of the purchase of the Harvard Street High school as a civic center, and we feel that some of the funds derived from the sale of this property could be devoted to the erection of a high school in the northwestern section of Glendale, especially in the Lake district."

Superintendent Richardson D. White and Peter Diederich, superintendent of plant and production, will be the principal speakers, and a number of others will also be called on to discuss matters that are regarded as of vital interest to the residents of Lake district, which voted to annex to Glendale on March 11, last, and which is showing a remarkable growth in development and population.

Risk to Children

Mr. Faires points out that children of the Lake district attending school now have to cross the San Fernando road, the Southern Pacific and Pacific Electric tracks, with consequent menace to life, and this is one of the strongest reasons why a school is sought for the district. Seventy-two children of school age now reside in the district, and its growth is assurance, he declares, that this number will be materially augmented in the immediate future.

Refreshments will be served those who attend the meeting, and a band concert will also be one of the principal attractions, the music being rendered by Glendale talent.

GASOLINE PRICE WAR

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 17— The gasoline price war which has brought the price of independent gasoline down to 14 cents a gallon, is causing the sellers a loss of about 5 cents a gallon they admitted today. The Standard Oil product still is maintained at a price of 21 cents, although dealers say the war may be so broadened that it will include the standard product.

WANTED FOR ROBBERY

LOS ANGELES, July 17.— James Soliz, arrested near San Diego, is wanted in Los Angeles for fifty burglaries, officers asserted. Loot obtained by Soliz and two companions totaled thousands of dollars, according to the authorities.

Attention of Mr. S. S. Beran

My Dear Mr. Beran:

Mrs. Bryant and I wish to thank you and to express to you our appreciation for your services rendered in the building of our home at No. 141 Harvey Drive, Glendale.

We surely are well pleased with it in every particular. The building of a home takes considerable study to work out all of the details in connection thereto, and it certainly is a relief to find a builder (with the knowledge and the willingness to do), who can be relied upon to carry through one's wish in design and workmanship to a final conclusion.

Wishing you future success, I am,

Yours very truly,
M. A. BRYANT.

P. S.—Any time that I can recommend you to any of my friends I certainly will do so.
M. A. B.

To hear of a town that was spending more for libraries than amusements?

AUXILIARY POWER PLANT IS NECESSITY

Next to the completion of the sewer system, the start of which is already too long delayed, The Glendale Evening News believes that a municipally owned auxiliary power plant is the most important improvement this city can have. We say this with all due respect to the judgment of those who are booming bonds for a civic center and other projects. Electric power service uninterrupted is the life blood of the community. Without it all other projects are of little use. The recent temporary shut-off of power convinced thousands of people of that fact—that's why they signed petitions to the City Council asking for power protection.

But the sub-committee of the Citizens' Bond committee has definitely decided, as reported in yesterday's Glendale Evening News, that "it would require at least one year to build an auxiliary power plant here, and because of the fact that the Edison company will be in a position to take care of Southern California without any curtailment by the spring of 1925, we feel, as stated before, that it is unnecessary for us at this time to further consider the construction of our own power plant. We feel that there are many other things more necessary at this time which will require the voting of bonds, and because of our limited bonding capacity we feel that it would be impossible at this time to include a sufficient sum to build a plant that would be adequate to take care of our light and power requirements."

Yet, The Glendale Evening News believes that an auxiliary plant—one of sufficient size to take care of our "peak load" and be able to provide lights and pump our water should the Edison system fail us—would be an excellent investment, justifiable insurance and a "talking point" in making contracts with the Edison company for the purchase of "juice." The city now owns its own poles, wires and like equipment—a generating plant is what we need for protection. The bond issue for it would be far less than some of the other bond issues now being proposed and fostered.

Only recently the same sub-committee that now vetoes an auxiliary plant visited the city of Pasadena and investigated the municipally owned plant there. On July 9, the sub-committee made a report of its findings to the Citizens' Bond committee. Following are extracts from that report:

"We found during our investigation that the city of Pasadena has an ideal power plant which was begun in a small way about ten years ago and gradually brought up to the present state of perfection, until today Pasadena finds herself in an enviable position with one of the best managed, most efficient and profitable power plants to be found anywhere in America. Because of these facts and the successful operation of their plant over a period of years, we feel we can make no mistake by taking advantage of all the years of experience that that city has gone through in perfecting her light and power department. We will first give you a few facts and figures based upon actual conditions in Pasadena, which prove conclusively what can be done if we go about the matter in the right manner.

"Pasadena today is producing 330,000 kilowatts every twenty-four hours and selling two-thirds of this production to the Southern California Edison company, at a profit of about $300 per day, the remainder being consumed at home without requiring citizens or industry to make any curtailment, which is perfectly right and proper, for the reason that the citizens had the foresight to prepare early for an emergency that was sure to come sooner or later and will no doubt come again. The fact that Pasadena built this plant resulted in greatly reduced rates for light and power to all her sister communities, as well as for herself when she wished to buy power at any time.

"The last unit for the present is just being completed and is now in operation, which gives Pasadena an all steam generating plant equipped to burn fuel oil, of which it now consumes about 1400 barrels daily. The plant includes a water softening and purifying plant, and the most modern water cooling system, switchboard and control arrangement, and is housed in a fine reinforced concrete and steel building large enough to accommodate additional units as required later. The plant is served by two railroads, which is very essential in the delivery of fuel.

"We quote the following figures from the last report of the city manager: $1 of income for every $1.77 of capitalization. Income per capita is $14.03. Saving to the people of Pasadena since the city's electric utility began serving electrical energy amounts to $2,916,264.49. Average rate per K.W.H. received for residence and commercial lighting last year was .04729. The average residence uses about 40 K.W.H. per month. Pasadena charges for this today $2. Glendale charges for this today $2.45.

"It is estimated that Pasadena's plant and equipment are valued at $10,000,000 and has only $687,814.90 of outstanding obligations. The entire plant has been paid for from income and has not cost its people one cent.

"So far as we have been able to learn, Pasadena has the only modern generating plant in Southern California. Whittier is installing a small auxiliary plant and Anaheim is now figuring on also installing a small unit, both simply for the purpose of taking care of their water pumps. Practically all of the other municipalities in Southern California are buying electrical energy from the Edison company, some of which own their own distributing system, as do we here in Glendale. For this reason Pasadena is about the only city that can give us any real information based upon actual operating experience.

"Now let us approach our situation in Glendale. We believe we are situated in a location which is even more advantageous than Pasadena. Our plant could be located on property now owned by the city, or we could purchase additional acreage immediately adjoining our present water pumping station, which would give us trackage on the main line of the Southern Pacific, which would be very advantageous in receiving shipments of the heavy turbines, boilers and the like, for the plant, and also for rail shipments of oil, poles and the like. This location is immediately adjoining the main fuel oil and natural gas supply lines from the Kern county oil fields, so our fuel supply would be assured from this source at a very favorable rate as long as the oil fields continue to yield. We have at this point an unlimited supply of pure water for use in the boilers, which can be had for the pumping.

"We desire to make further study of costs, etc., before making final recommendations, which we will have ready to submit not later than July 15."

After that very enthusiastic report, the sub-committee yesterday made the "final recommendation" that "there are many other things more necessary at this time," and so ruled against a municipally owned plant.

However, it is proposed to have a $650,000 bond issue for a civic center; a bond issue for a $50,000 garbage disposal plant; a bond issue of $60,000 for additional fire stations and equipment; a bond issue of $100,000 for a police and fire alarm system; a huge bond issue for additional schools; a bond issue for this, that and the other thing—and all of them, if they carried, would be practically useless if the city does not have adequate electric power at a reasonable rate.

The Glendale Evening News stands for advancement, yet it seems to this newspaper that we had better examine this bond issue program minutely and see what's what—and why. Also, let's get more action on our sewer construction—that's our biggest municipal problem.

Our idea of an ideal vacation is to contemplate the beauties of nature, unmolested by fleas, bedbugs, mosquitoes or taxes.

What a Woman Can Do

By DR. FRANK CRANE

In these days of emancipation, women are dabbling about at all sorts of things.

It is natural also that many of them should be a little dazed with their new freedom, and puzzled at the many doors open to them.

It is natural also that some of them should make mistakes, the business of making mistakes being the one in which we are all more or less adept.

And the principal mistake that they make is the very primary one of mistaking the peculiar kind of activity in which they are endowed by Nature to excel and in which no mere man can cope with them.

There is no such thing as sex in ideas. There is such a thing as femininity of spirit. And it is not a thing to be ashamed of nor to be regarded as in any wise second-rate.

There are three things a woman can do better than any man can do them; three things so vital that the world's pulses would stop and the world's spirit would droop without them.

These three things are Love, Management and Appreciation.

In the first place the world's most precious treasure, the immediate jewel of its soul, the last possession with which it would willingly part is Love.

It is no extravagance to say that Love belongs to her, and that without her this so great fire of the gods would fall upon every hearthstone.

The second of her possessions is Management.

Man thinks he manages, but he does not. He has strength as the horse has strength, but the woman has the bridle.

It is a man's duty to work, to create and to produce. In these a woman cannot cope with him. But he cannot preserve the result of his work, and his production and creation become wastage without the woman's management.

The third business of woman is Appreciation. Appreciation is the Bread of Life. It is the Vitamin of the spirit.

Appreciation does not judge; it does not condemn; it does not punish.

It understands.

Who's Who

A delegate to the 1872 convention that nominated Horace Greeley, Judson Harmon is still attending Democratic conventions. The former governor of Ohio helped to nominate James M. Cox four years ago at San Francisco and reported early in New York to lend his aid to Cox this year.

Harmon is now 76. He is a man of large frame, striking features and powerful mind.

In the 1912 convention, which nominated Woodrow Wilson, Harmon was a popular candidate. Being conservative and considered absolutely safe and sound he was an influential factor in 1908, 1904 and in the two previous William J. Bryan campaigns. He belonged to the old Cleveland faction of the party.

He served as U. S. attorney-general under President Cleveland. He was born at Newton, Hamilton county, Ohio, Feb. 3, 1846. He studied at Denison university and Cincinnati law school. He still resides in Cincinnati. His first political job was that of mayor of Wyoming, Ohio. He was next elected common pleas judge, in 1876, and two years later became judge of Superior court. He next served in President Cleveland's cabinet and then left politics to become professor of law at the University of Cincinnati. He was elected governor of Ohio in 1900 and re-elected two years later.

When Governor Fred H. Brown of New Hampshire was placed in nomination for the presidency at the Democratic national convention by F. Clyde Keefe of his home state it marked the first time that a delegate from New Hampshire had raised his voice in nomination at a Democratic national convention in seventy-two years.

It also marked the advent of a former big leaguer in the ranks of presidential nominees. Brown played in the National league in his early days, after his graduation from Dartmouth college.

He has been identified with New Hampshire politics for many years. He served as United States district attorney for the district of New Hampshire for eight years.

After serving ten consecutive years as mayor of his city, Brown was elected governor in 1922, becoming the first Democratic governor elected by the voters of that state in over sixty years.

He has carried out a rigid program of economy, cutting the legislative appropriation below the estimate which the state legislature insisted was the lowest possible figure on which the state could function properly. He has also put through a tax reduction program.

Do You Know

London has a female chimney sweep.

Constantinople has 30,000 small "shelf shops" and less than 50 department stores.

Peeling, removing the core and slicing pineapples is all done by machinery in the Hawaiian islands.

Carved furniture from Italy, that is becoming popular in this country, is mounted and finished in the United States.

Smiles

A poet was explaining the workings of inspiration to a friend who professed not to understand the same.

"It is this way," declared the bard. "Here I am sitting in the park under this beautiful maple tree. I am writing a sonnet to a maple tree. It is a better sonnet than I could write at home."

"Merely because you are sitting under this tree?"

"Just so."

"That's funny," responded the friend. "This tree is a beech."

IN BOOTLEG FOREST

The highly inebriated individual halted before a solitary tree, and regarded it as intently as he could with the result that he saw two trees. His attempt to pass between these resulted in a near-concussion of the brain. He reeled back, but presently sighted carefully, and tried again, with the like result.

When this had happened a half-dozen times, the unhappy man lifted up his voice and wept.

"Lost—Lost!" he sobbed. "Hopelessly lost in an impenetrable forest!"

ACCOMPLISHED

In these days of difficulty in obtaining domestic servants, Mistresses will accept almost any sort of help, but there are limits. A woman interrogated a husky girl in an employment office, who was a recent importation from Lapland. The dialogue was as follows:

"Can you do fancy cooking?"
"Naw."
"Can you do plain cooking?"
"Naw."
"Can you sew?"
"Naw."
"Can you do general housework?"
"Naw."
"Make the beds, wash the dishes?"
"Naw."
"Well," cried the woman in puzzled exasperation, "what can you do?"
"I milk reindeer."

The Ravings Of a Grouch

I am a progressive sort of a fellow and I do not hold with those who judge everything good that is stale and moldy and everything worthless that is fresh and new. I think the world is growing better and that new things are often an improvement over customs and conventions musty with age.

But when it comes to comes to poetry I prefer the old. The modern poets, with one or two exceptions are, in my estimation, no improvement over Scott, Moore, Byron, Shelley, Keats, Tennyson, Longfellow, Whittier or Riley.

There is no reason why we should cling to the old forms; there is no reason why we should let men who lived in another age set our standards; there is no reason why the modern should not be as meritorious as the old; there is no reason, either, why poetry should not have beauty, rhythm, form and meaning. And some of the modern poetry has none of these. Much of the free verse we read evidently emanates from padded cells.

Judging from results the modern poets use this method: They make a card index of a few well-selected nouns such as mud, river, sunset, elephant, spaghetti, dust. Then they select an equal number of adjectives, including all the colors of the spectrum, not forgetting red and purple. Then they shuffle the cards and draw them from a hat. When all are drawn there is the poem complete. When they feel inspiration coming on they shuffle the cards again.

This, for instance, is the way it works out:

Jersey cows, purple sunset
in the west
Homeward going.
Like shadows going along.
Shapes and forms, muddy barnyard milk flowing into pails.
Blackness falling.

There, I always knew I could write poetry. But I must admit I cheated. The cards came out of the hat in this order. "Purple cows, jersey sunset." I transposed the adjectives, while a real poet would have allowed them to stand.

The movie people use much the same method in writing titles for plays. They take a nice, interesting, popular word like "flaming," "wives," or "dust," open the dictionary and point out a word at random to combine with it. Result, a nice, catchy, intriguing title.

Labor-saving is the watchword of this age.

Be Careful, Please, Of Your Fires

California is just "catching its breath" after a series of serious brush and timber fires in various sections of the state. Careless campers are the cause of many fires, the forest official declares. These pictures carry hints to those who go camping. Watch your fires, please!

The wrong way to build a camp fire

"Use plenty of sand or water to extinguish your camp fire" advises the Ranger.

CAMP LIFE CALLS TO AUTOIST

Wonderful Outing May Be Had If Equipment Is Of Proper Kind

Uncle Sam has thrown open his great playgrounds to you—to every man with an automobile. He invites you to drop your work, to come and play—come and enjoy real life—to spend a real vacation in his national forests.

From the Rockies to the Pacific, from Canada to Mexico, he has set aside millions of acres of forest land for your recreaton. Wonderful mountain roads have been built where steep trails have led, to carry you pleasure-bound where you would go. Recreation of every kind is there to await your pleasure—fishing, hunting, swimming or just plain camping. Where can you spend so wonderful an outing as in these natural playgrounds?

Careful of Fires

Here you may take your car, loaded with camping equipment, far into the mountains and stay as long as you like and all that Uncle Sam asks of you in return is that you aid him in keeping all his parks clean and sanitary and be careful with your campfires. When you go to the mountains, it is well to stop the first forest ranger you meet and learn from him what Uncle Sam expects of you while in his woodlands. Get acquainted with these soldiers of the forest, you'll find them to be fine fellows, ever-ready to give you first-hand information. Ask them where to find the best place to fish, hunt or to camp and you may be sure they will give you information and gladly tell you where to go to have the most enjoyable vacation.

Learn How to Do It

Let a forest ranger show you how to build and extinguish your campfire. He will show you how to bank it and keep it from spreading; he will tell you to never build your fire between two logs, where every little gust of wind will send the sparks scattering; to build it in the open and bank it with rocks if they are procurable. This not only serves as a means to keep your fire from blowing about but is a valuable asset to your cooking. Pinch the head of a burned match before throwing it away, be careful of hot ashes from your cigar or pipe—many are the warnings he will

H. W. Swanson Gets Agency For Local Territory For Two Lines

The agency for the Hupmobile and the Jordan cars for the Glendale territory has been secured by H. W. Swanson, one of the leading dealers of Hollywood, who has leased the premises at 111 West Harvard street, where he is already displaying the new models of both lines.

H. V. White has been appointed manager of the local agency and is confident that the prospects that are already showing such keen interest in the two cars will result in an important volume of business for the firm in this district, where both of them are already well known and popular.

"The possibilities of the Glendale territory," says Mr. Swanson, "were the deciding factor in inducing me to establish a branch of my business here. I want every automobile owner in the city and every prospective owner to look over the two lines and see just what we are offering in the way of dollar-for-dollar value in automobiles."

FIX CAR BEFORE VACATION, ADVICE

Auto's Electrical Equipment Should Be In Shape For Long Trips

The need for proper inspection and the proper repairing of automobile equipment before starting on long vacation trips is stressed by Henry Kuhn, of E. W. Cizek Auto-Electric Co., 300 South Brand boulevard, and he lays special emphasis on the importance of having generators, starters and magnetos in first-class shape before any extended trips are attempted.

The E. W. Cizek Auto-Electric Company is specializing on electric repairs to these parts of the car, he says, and the work of this department is under the personal supervision of R. J. Tepper, the foreman, who inspects every job before it is turned over to the owner of the car. Checking the ignition system is done without any charge being made for this service.

"It is a wise policy," says Mr. Kuhn, "to see that the electrical equipment of a car is in perfect condition before attempting a trip that may lead one to places where repairs may be difficult and where delays may be caused by the inability to secure prompt attention."

INCREASE FORCE IN REPAIR SHOP

Carl & Henry Employ Three Extra Workmen Within Month of Opening

Glendale looks good to the firm of Carl & Henry, 122 West Colorado boulevard. In less than a month business has increased so rapidly that they now have an efficient corps of three workmen. When they first started, less than a month ago, just the two proprietors were able to take care of the business.

Auto body, fender and radiator shell repairing is the main work of this firm, although they specialize in baked enameling. In removing dents from fenders and bodies a great deal of ingenious work is needed, and many of the jobs of this nature turned out can hardly be told from the new part. It is a job that requires much experience, and both Mr. Carl and Mr. Henry have spent years in this branch of auto work.

SET RECORD FOR USED CAR SALES

Maxwell Agency Distributes Rebuilt Machines to Big Buyer List

Sales of used Maxwell cars through the Glendale Motor Car company, 124 West Colorado street, Maxwell and Chrysler distributors, during the past month have exceeded any previous figures in the history of the firm, Lyman P. Clark, president, declares. All of these cars were thoroughly overhauled and had all worn parts replaced before they were offered for sale, and Mr. Clark declares that the demand for used Maxwells is based on the growing realization of the motoring public of the value the used Maxwell car contains, especially when backed by a responsible dealer.

"Since Walter P. Chrysler built the Good Maxwell," says Mr. Clark, the people of this country have come to realize that it will stand up under the hardest kind of use. This is demonstrated by the number of Maxwells that are in use by the Southern California Edison company in all of its projects.

"Their fleet numbers about 200 Maxwell cars, and a lot of them are in daily use around Huntington Lake, where there are mountain roads with all sorts of grades and surfaces, where the severe climatic conditions test a car to the utmost; but the Maxwell cars, according to reports from the company, are giving service that is unexcelled by any other machines they own."

Camp Life Calling to Numerous Autoists

give you about care with your fire.

The forest ranger always looks with approval upon the camper with a gasoline stove or gasoline lantern, as there is little chance of a fire of any nature originating from such a device. The camping department of the Western Auto Supply company offers many improvements in the way of modern stoves to use on a camping trip. The gasoline stove is ever gaining in popularity. An entire meal may be prepared on one of these additions in the time that it ordinarily takes to gather firewood. For the camper who insists on using a wood fire, a small stove or grid is provided with an attached oven for baking purposes.

Lantern Most Useful

The lighting problem is easily solved by a gasoline lamp with rays of sufficient strength to light the entire camp. Of all the additions to the modern camping equipment, the gasoline lantern is probably the most useful. Many campers have conceived the idea that such a device is a nuisance as the mantles break and new ones must be applied every time the lamp is used. This impression is wrong, however, for, if the lantern is packed in its original box and enclosed with the bedding, the mantles will last for months.

With so many modern improvements in camping supplies today, it is small wonder that each year finds thousands of motorists paying the national forest reserves a visit during the vacation months.

CHRYSLER LOWERS MT. WILSON TIME

Ralph DePalma Clips Over Two Minutes From Old Mountain Figures

The Mount Wilson hill climbing record that has stood for the past two years was broken yesterday when a Chrysler Six made the grade from the toll house to the hotel at the summit in 25 minutes, 48.85 seconds, according to a telegram received late yesterday by Lyman P. Clark, of the Glendale Motor Car company, 124 West Colorado street, Maxwell and Chrysler dealers. The telegram reads:

"Chrysler Six, absolutely stock touring car with standard gearing, Ralph dePalma driving, broke Mount Wilson record today, winning challenge trophy. Time 25 minutes, 48.85 seconds, beating former record made in 1922 by over two minutes. This is remarkable record considering climb of 4236 feet, 140 turns of which 90 are right angles and road badly cut up. Immediately after record run under supervision of four newspapers the car made 72 miles per hour maximum speed and 44 miles per hour in second gear then circled mile track in 59 3-5 seconds, cooling and lubricating perfectly."

Slayers Planned to Kill Loeb's Brother

CHICAGO, July 17.—Persons close to the defense declared here today that Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold, who now are awaiting trial on charges of kidnaping and killing 13-year-old Richard Franks, had not only calmly considered using Tommy Loeb, 10-year-old brother of Richard, as their victim, but also had even considered the possibility of attacking their own fathers. The youths compromised and agreed to the kidnaping and killing of the Franks boy, it was declared.

Recruiting for Army Ordered Suspended

WASHINGTON, July 17.—All recruiting for the regular army with the exception of re-enlistments and enlistments of men with prior service has been ordered discontinued by Major General Robert C. Davis, adjutant general.

Although the strength fixed by congress for the army is 125,000 men, the appropriation for the current fiscal year makes funds available for only 118,000 and there are now 123,793 in the service.

VAN NUYS COMING TO PLAY SUNDAY

First Appearance at Home In Three Weeks for Sox; Winner Take All

Van Nuys is coming back. Laboring under the belief that the 8-to-2 victory scored against them by the White Sox at Glendale on June 29 was more of an accident than a ball game, the Van Nuys aggregation will meet the local team here Sunday on a winner-take-all basis.

Incidentally, it will be the first appearance of the pale hose wearers on the home lot since that game, as the Sox played two games at Catalina Island, and last Sunday performed in El Segundo. For three weeks Sawyer and his crew of champion ballplayers have not exhibited for the benefit and pleasure of home town folks, but next Sunday there will be a big game well worth seeing.

Advance information from the valley town indicated Robertson, former Coast league hurler, will be on the mound for Van Nuys. Robertson retired none too gracefully at the end of the fifth inning at the last set-to between Van Nuys and the Sox, giving way to Waterfield.

The Glendale line-up will be intact. Reiger will draw the pitching assignment and Big Boy Sullivan will be working behind the rubber. Shellenbach will play at first, Sawyer will clown around second and Shields wil stop 'em at third. Hirigoyen will fill up the gap at shortstop. In the outer garden will be "Cy" Young, Glendale's youthful Babe Ruth; Charley Dorman and Frenchy Orsatt.

MALLORY BEATEN BY HELEN WILLS

California Girl Takes Two Sets From Former Net Titleholder

By HARRY FLORY
For International News Service.

PARIS, July 17.—Miss Helen Wills, American woman champion, went into the semi-final round of the women's singles today when she defeated her keenest rival, Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, in straight sets, 6-3, 6-3.

Mrs. Mallory is now playing for Norway. She lost her American championship to Miss Wills last year and eagerly looked forward to meeting her conqueror.

The hopes of America to land the women's singles Olympic tennis championship rests today upon the girl champion from the Pacific coast. The other woman entry who had survived competition to date, Mrs. Marion Jessup, was eliminated this morning, being defeated by Miss Kathleen McKane, the English star, in straight sets, 6-2, 6-0.

Richards Wins

Vincent Richards, the American ace and member of last year's Davis cup team, today fought his way into the semi-final round in the Olympic tennis tournament, men's singles, when he defeated Rene Lacoste, the French star, in a thrilling five-set match. The scores: 8-6, 4-6, 1-6, 6-2, 6-3.

R. Norris Williams, II., the only other American left in the men's singles, was eliminated today by Henri Cochet of France. Williams, after winning the first set, lost the next three. Scores: 5-7, 6-3, 6-2, 6--4.

Gilmore Oilers Play Trolley Team Sunday

Gilmore Oil will play Pacific Electric in a postponed Summer League game at Third and Fairfax Sunday afternoon. With third place at stake for the Gilmore crowd it is more than likely that Bob Wallace, former Angel moundsman, will oppose Charley Hill's crew.

Jensen, considered one of the real slab stars of the south, will battle Wallace. This game is one of the feature struggles carded through the Managers' association for Sunday.

Prexy Williams Makes San Francisco Visit

LOS ANGELES, July 17.—The purpose of the visit of Harry A. Williams, president of the Pacific Coast league, to San Francisco is to start a general shakeup of umpires, it was said here.

Charles Webber, secretary of the Los Angeles club, has started a war on Umpire Bill Schaffer, claiming his work in the Angels-Seattle series was poor. Umpire Burnside of Oakland will temporarily replace Schaller, it was said.

Number of deaths caused by automobile accidents in this country in 1922 increased 10.7 per cent over 1921.

Yale Oarsmen Score Another Olympic Win

ARGENTUEIL, France, July 17.—The Yale varsity crew, which swept aside all opposition in the United States, continued its winning streak in the Olympic championships today when it won the eight-oared shell event.

Yale's time was 6 minutes, 33 2-5 seconds. The Canadian eight-oared shell finished second, with Italy third and Great Britain fourth.

The Yale crew won by between four and five lengths.

TAGGING THE BASES

The Tigers made a big gain in the American league pennant fight when they defeated the Red Sox in a doubleheader while the Yankees were losing to the Indians and the Senators were idle. The Yankees now lead by one game with the Senators second, a half game in front of the Tigers.

George Kelly knocked out his sixth home run in five games and his seventh of the present western trip of the Giants.

The Dodgers and Reds split even, Brooklyn's victory in the first being due to Dazzy Vance's fine twirling in the pinches.

The Athletics checked the White Sox advance when they won both games of the twin bill, 5 to 0 and 6 to 5.

WALKER-LEONARD BOUT SIGNED UP

Two Champs Will Go Twelve Rounds Next Month In New Jersey Ring

NEW YORK, July 17.—Benny Leonard, lightweight champion of the world, and Mickey Walker, welterweight titleholder of the world, have been signed for a twelve-round fight to take place between August 15 and 22 at Boyle's Thirty Acres.

Because of the fact that Walker is not making the lightweight limit to meet Leopold, Benny cannot lose his title, no matter what the outcome. Walker, however, can lose his title to the lighter man, and this only through the medium of a knockout, as the Jersey law does not allow decisions.

Plan Special Matches For Net Stars In L. A.

William T. Tilden II., world's premier tennis player, and two of his proteges, Sandy Weiner and Donald Strachan, will arrive in Los Angeles in a few days to play some exhibition matches. The trio will play at the Montecito Country club a week from Saturday and will be in Los Angeles for some time after. Tilden will play at Midwick the following day.

Montecito has arranged a complete program for the exhibition matches. Admission will be $1.10 A dinner-dance, with Tilden and the two juniors as guests, will be the feature of the evening, according to an announcement made by R. W. Rives, secretary of the club.

San Francisco Tennis Stars Win at Skokie

GLENCOE, Ill., July 17.—Howard Winsey of San Francisco defeated John Barr of Dallas, 6-4, 6-2, in the third round of the Illinois tennis tournament, while Peck Griffin, also of San Francisco, trimmed G. Tyler of Chicago, 6-0, 6-3.

Gerald Patterson, captain of the Australian team, eliminated George O'Connell of Chicago, 6-1, 6-1. Robert Kinsey, brother of Howard, defaulted to W. Kinsel of Chicago. He strained a tendon in his right arm in a match with Tilden at St. Louis last week.

In the National league the Giants further increased their lead when they defeated the Pirates, while the Cubs bowed to the Phillies. The Giants' lead is now 10½ games.

OAKS HIT THREE PITCHERS FREELY

Angels Drop 11-7 Slugfest In Homecoming Contest; Seals Regain Top

By BEN M'GUIRE
For Southland News Service.

LOS ANGELES, July 17.—Marty Krug and his Los Angeles Angels returned home yesterday, following a three weeks' road trip, and displayed their old time form on the home lot by going down to defeat at the hands of Ivan Howard's Oakland club, 11 to 7. Four Angel twirlers attempted to stop the Oaks, but all shared about the same. Root started for the Seraphs and lasted long enough for Buzzer Arlett to connect with one of his fast ones, sending the ball into the right field bleachers for a home run scoring Brubaker and Adams ahead of him. Ramsey, Weinert and Meyers were the other slab artists for the Angels, but all were in very poor form.

Krause started for the Oaks but weakened in the fourth and was replaced by Kunz, who pitched fairly good ball. Buz Arlett was the batting hero of the day, copping a single, triple and home run in as many times at bat. Wally Hood, Angel gardener, scored two of the Seraphs' runs with his four bagger over the left field fence.

Duster Mails was ejected from the lot by Umpire Riordan, when the erratic southpaw started panning the latter for a close decision at the plate.

The Seals slipped back into first place yesterday when they beat the Tigers 5 to 4 at San Farncisco. Blakesley poled a home run. Valla again dropped a fly in the ninth inning, which allowed two runners to score. The trimming forced the Tigers down to fourth place.

The Senators moved up to third place yesterday when they beat the Beavers 6 to 4 at Sacramento. Pick used half of his pitching staff during the game. Several Portland rallies were stopped by this method.

The Bees handed the Indians a 12 to 2 drubbing at Salt Lake yesterday and after the fracas was over the Indians were resting in second place. Lewis and Rohwer got home runs. Sixteen hits were gathered by the Bees off Jones and Plummer.

Title at Stake In Leonard-Walker Bout

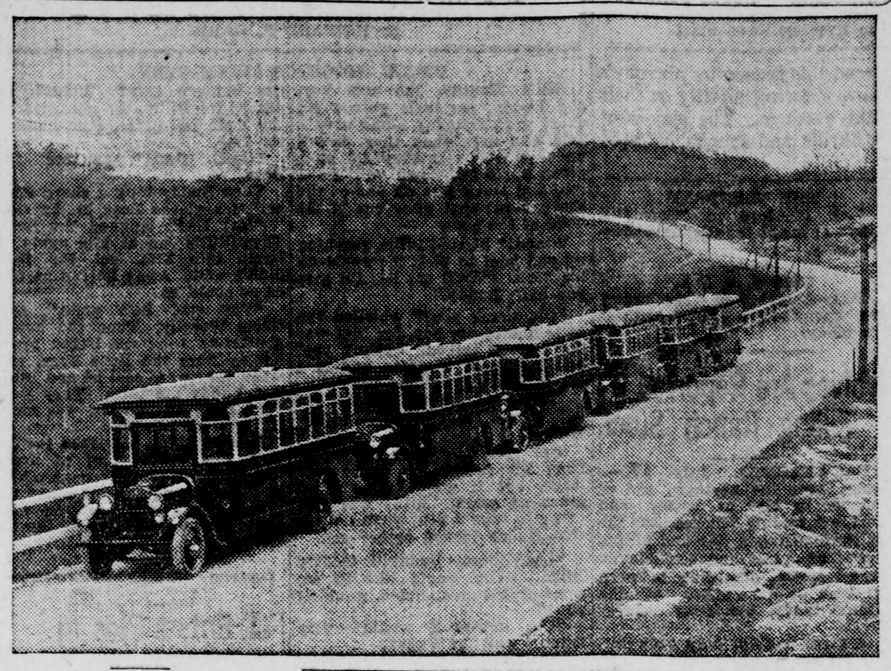
Akron Uses Motor Buses

The traffic problems of Akron, Ohio, were greatly simplified when the transportation company was ordered to augment its street car service with motor buses. REO Pay-as-you-enter vehicles were adopted.



A few months ago the city of Akron, Ohio, was existing without adequate passenger transportation. A renewal of the franchise of the Northern Ohio Traction company was being withheld by city officials, and the only form of public carriers in operation was a disorganized lot of nondescript "jitneys."

Then it was decided to renew the franchise of the street railway company, with the understanding that this company was to augment the service rendered by its trolley cars with bus feeders leading into the existing lines of street car tracks.

Accordingly the Northern Ohio Traction company provided itself with a number of busses, and now the six Reo Pay-Enter Busses shown here are aiding the company in giving passenger transportation to Akron.

SILVER CUP FOR LEADER IN SALES

Packer Auto Co. Trophy Goes To L. P. Conover for Second Quarter

The silver cup that is offered by the Packer Auto company, 245 South Brand boulevard, to the salesman making the highest money volume on sales each quarter was captured for the second quarter by L. P. Conover, in competition with all the other Packer salesmen in Glendale, Burbank and Eagle Rock. The high man for the first three months of the year was D. J. Bricker of Burbank, and each of these men was awarded a cash prize of $50, in addition to the cup.

At the end of the year the trophy goes to the salesman making the biggest volume of sales and becomes his permanent property, and the competition for it is growing keen in every branch, and the only person barred from the competition is the sales manager, R. L. Conover.

The results of the competition for the cup are shown in the steady output of Studebakers from the Packer agency, and present indications augur a season's sales that will compare favorably with that of any previous year, officials of the company declare.

FRANKLIN SHOWS POWER INCREASE

Improved Cooling Enables New Model to Develop Speed and Pickup

A noteworthy discovery of the power possibilities of the pressure air-cooled motor comes to light with the introduction of the latest Franklin, designated as Series 10-C, and affording increases in ability within all speed ranges of the motor, registering as high as 49 per cent, says E. S. Beggs, of Motor Sales company, 406 East Colorado street, local dealer.

The peak speed has been increased from 1700 to 2200 r. p. m., with the greatest power gain over previous Franklin performances showing at 50 m. p. h. Acceleration tests with a Franklin touring show ability to increase from 5 to 25 m. p. h. in 7.3 seconds, which illustrates the pick-up which the car has for traffic conditions. Other tests show that the high-powered Franklin will climb an 8.5 per cent grade in 30 per cent less time than will its predecessor.

At Yale university, where the latest Franklin power unit was given scientific tests, the Franklin motor development is styled as a "significant advance in air-cooled engine design," attained "without change in size of engine or without loss of fuel economy."

Special Preserve On Klamath River Urged

LOS ANGELES, July 17.—For 200,000,000 fish eggs the state should establish a special preserve on the Klamath river which courses through California for 200 miles in the extreme northern portion of the state, according to C. S. Bauder, assistant fish and game commissioner here, who is urging qualified electors to sign the initiative petition reserving the Klamath river to trout and salmon spawning.

"We take the 200,000,000 eggs," he said, "and stock the streams of this state through the intermediary of the fish hatcheries. Unless we have the supply of eggs the work of the commission will be hampered. That is why the voters are urged to support this measure."

No Car Like It!

The outstanding buying choice this year is "Closed Car Comforts at Open Car Cost." The Coach alone provides them. It is exclusive to Hudson and Essex. Everyone knows it gives highest closed car value. And because no other type or car shares its position it is the largest selling 6-cylinder closed car in the world.

Balloon Tires Now Enhance World's Greatest Value

Naturally when balloon tires had established their superiority Hudson and Essex would adopt them. They are now standard equipment. They add an even greater measure of riding ease, steadiness and good looks to the notable values of the Coach.

You see the Coach everywhere in increasing numbers. Everyone wants closed car comforts. They will no longer accept half-utility when all-year usefulness and comforts cost no more in the Coach.

Consider how the growing trend to closed cars affects resale values. The diminishing demand for open cars means far faster depreciation in that type. As the wanted type, the Coach maintains exceptionally high resale value.

In workmanship, materials and design both Hudson and Essex are of one quality—built in the same factories, under the same patents. Your choice between them will rest solely on the price you want to pay.

CHAPTER IV

Craig saw, against a background of ink-spattered letter-files and bundles of old papers, the harsh electric lights falling full upon her, a graceful, well-built girl whose face was oddly and inexplicably bright. Her hair, clinging close to her head in rich waves and heavy braids, was reddish brown, her eyes were a clear surprising blue, and she had an unexpected mouth, a mouth that looked rather wide and grave when she was serious, but that had a great and irregular charm when she smiled. She wore what she had worn almost as a uniform for three or four years, but he did not know that. He did not even analyze the simple frock of dark blue corduroy velvet, with the plain collar of dark, creamy lace, but something quaint and honest and interesting about them both.

"You've met my nephew before?" said John Spaulding, his face rosy with cold air and exercise, his frosty old blue eye kindly. "Sorry to keep you here, but the train was late, and then we had to go up to the house to see the boy's aunt. I think it's a little late to go over things tonight; suppose we put it off until tomorrow?"

Hilary looked at him respectfully, deferentially.

"Just as you decide, Mr. Spaulding."

"Boys have pretty well gone home, haven't they?"

"I imagine so." Hilary glanced at her wrist-watch. "It's just five," she said.

A shrill whistle, outside in the gloom of the yard, confirmed her. Young Spaulding and his uncle and Hilary looked out of the side window. It gave upon a large yard bounded by various sheds and doorways; upon these and upon the churned black mud underfoot several lights were shining. The doorway of one long building opened, and the employes began to stream out in groups of twos and threes, punching a time-clock as they came. The young men and women were well but shabbily wrapped; they laughed and locked arms companionably as they picked their way toward the gate.

"That whistle is the signal for teapots to be filled all along Spaulding Street!" the old president of the plant said in genial satisfaction.

"I like to see them come out like that," Hilary said somewhat timidly. "It reminds me of something. I don't know what!" She spoke mildly, merely trying to be polite, to show the great Craig that pleasant relationships existed between his uncle and his uncle's secretary. For, however justly and however staunchly Hilary might feel, elsewhere, the importance of a place as obscure as Mount Holly, here in the factory the Spauldings were the natural rulers of the universe.

"Of what?" Craig Spaulding asked, with his accurate, sharp, and yet kindly manner.

"Well," she stammered, a little startled, "I was thinking of—of Russia, and of some place, in England, I imagine—where the lights and the wet, dark yard, and the people streaming along, were like that!"

"You know Russia?" Craig asked, crisply.

"I remember Moscow, when I was five," Hilary answered briefly.

"But we don't want our factory to resemble those places!" he said, seriously. "It seems to me that that yard could be floored."

"The trucks would chew it to pieces in no time," old John said, pleased with his interest. "But now that you're here, we'll do great things!"

"They all prefer to cut across the yard, because it gives into Washington Street," Hilary explained, shyly. "They could go out the Market Street door."

Craig listened to her attentively. When she had finished he gave her a sudden smile, his sober face changing pleasantly as he did so.

A short-cut to those teapots!" he suggested to his uncle. Old Spaulding assented jovially; it was a great delight to him to have "the boy" here. Craig's coming had caused quite a stir in the nicest social set of Mount Holly, and the Spauldings, whose daughters were married and gone from home, enjoyed the little excitement.

Even now the telephone rang peremptorily; Mrs. Cutler White expected her daughter and some young friends from college for a house-party next week-end. Was Mr. Craig Spaulding there? Might she just say "Welcome home!" and ask him if he could join them?

Hilary handed him the telephone gravely; she liked his abstracted, almost annoyed expression as he politely snubbed the ubiquitous Mrs. White. He expected to spend almost all his Sundays in New York with his parents, he said pleasantly.

"Whew!" he exclaimed, half-humorously, when the conversation was over, hanging up the receiver, and looking pathetically at his companions.

"You'll have a good deal of that, my boy!" his uncle warned him.

"Well, now, let's see. What's this office, Uncle John?"

"This we call 'outer office.' Mine opens from this, you see. Old Kraut—you remember our manager, old Kraut?—has his desk here, and Miss Collier sits here and protects me from the Black Hand and the evil eye—"

"Telephone calls go through her?" Craig asked, smiling.

"Always!"

"Ah, well, then," he said, in relief, "all I need do is enlist the kindly aid of Miss Collier. Kind as she looks, I imagine she can be a martinet! And, as soon as I am really started here, I shall instruct her to give me no social calls of any description. How about that, Miss Collier?"

"That can be managed," Hilary said, capably. Her heart was beating in pleasant excitement. It would be a delightful variation of the dull office routine to have this interesting person here in the old factory and to feel that business would give them an inevitable friendship.

One of the cleverest plays offered this season by Murphy's Comedians is "The Gray Wolf," now showing nightly at their tent theatre on Stocker street, Casa Verdugo. The play is of the comedy-drama type, offering thrills and laughs in rapid succession.

It was "The Gray Wolf" that went prowling through the houses of a lot of quite proper people, spreading consternation in his train. The play is tense, well staged and contains an excellent cast. It has never before been seen on the Pacific coast.

The curtain rises each night promptly at 8 o'clock, states Manager J. A. Menard of Murphy's Comedians, though those who wish to assure themselves of front seats may come as early as 7:15 o'clock. The tent is reached by driving north on either Brand boulevard or Central avenue until one comes to Stocker street, where the nightly throng and the multitude of parked automobiles indicate clearly the location.

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY'S APPLE OVEN

Billie Wagtail, the goat boy, and Buddy, the little guinea pig chap, were skipping along over a field one day when they passed under a tree. As they did so a green apple fell down out of the tree and stuck fast on one of the sharp horns that grew out of the head of the goat.

"Good!" bleated Billie, reaching up one hoof to pick the apple off his horn. "We'll eat it! I'll give you half, Buddy."

"Oh, thank you!" whistled the little guinea pig boy, for that was the way he talked. "Thank you, but the apple is green and if I eat it I might become ill."

"Ho! Ho!" laughed Billie. "I'm not afraid of eating a green apple."

The goat boy took the apple from his horn. It was rather large, but it was hard, and as green as grass. Billie was just going to take a bite when he saw that Buddy looked rather sad.

"Look here, Buddy!" bleated Billie. "You would like to eat some of this green apple, wouldn't you?"

"Oh, indeed I would — very much," whistled Buddy.

"I thought you would like some," bleated Billie. "Well, now look here, this is what I am going to do. If I nibble this apple in front of you, it will only make you wish you could eat it. But if you have promised your mother you won't eat green apples—why, of course, you mustn't. But we'll go see Uncle Wiggily. He may know of a way to eat green apples so they won't hurt you. How's that?"

"Fine!" cried Buddy. "Uncle Wiggily will know what to do. But say, Billie, let's get more apples."

The two animal boys picked up more green apples, and hurried with them to the hollow stump bungalow of the rabbit gentleman.

"Hello!" laughed the bunny twinkling his pink nose. "What are you doing with those green apples?"

"We brought them to you to see if you know a way we can eat them without being made ill," explained Buddy. "Billie, he can eat green apples and they won't hurt him. But I can't."

"I know that!" chuckled Mr. Longears. "Well, then the best way will be to roast the apples in the oven. Baked apples, even if they are a bit green, will harm no one. However, as Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy is using the oven of the kitchen stove to bake a rice pudding, I will make a little apple oven outside here.

Uncle Wiggily mixed some mud, sand and water in a box. With this he plastered together some flat stones, fitting them together until he had made a cute little oven. In the lower part he built a fire. In the upper part of the oven he placed the green apples. The fire blazed hotter and hotter. The apples began to hiss and sizzle as they baked.

"They will soon be done," said Uncle Wiggily, looking in the oven.

"Yes, and I will soon be done nibbling your ears. For I am going to take you off to my den and start at once," growled a Big Black Bear, popping out of the bushes.

"Oh, please don't!" begged the bunny.

"Yes, I shall!" growled the Bear.

But do you suppose he nibbled the bunny's ears? Indeed, he didn't, for Billie, the goat, ran at the Bear and butted him hard in the ribs.

"Guff! Guff!" grunted the Bear.

Then Buddy took a sharp stick and tickled the Bear in the ribs.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed the Bear. Then Billie ran at him again to bump into him, but the Bear didn't wait. Away he ran as fast as he could go.

"I'm glad he's gone," said Uncle Wiggily. Then the bunny gentleman took the baked green apples from the little oven, and when they were cool he and Billie and Buddy ate them. They were very good, and no one was made ill, I am glad to say.

So everything happened for the best, and if the loaf of bread doesn't try to jump through a hole in the Swiss cheese and make the piano laugh, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the little wren.

Fall Enters Plea In Oil Bribery Charges

EL PASO, Texas, July 17.—A B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, under indictment for accepting a bribe in connection with the leasing of Teapot Dome oil reserve leases, today appeared in federal court for arraignment. He pleaded not guilty. Bond was fixed at $25,000, which was immediately furnished.

In its program to strengthen reserves the Sinclair Exploration company has leased for twenty-five years the central area of the Buchivacea in Venezuela from British interests. In the meantime market advisers are urging the sale of Sinclair stock.

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

Mrs. M.—The causes of sterility are many, among them are inflammatory conditions, wrong position of the generative organs, general undernourishment and overnourishment. The latest cause to be added is the lack of sufficient vitamins in the diet. Animals which are fed on vitaminless food develop sterility. You say you were brought up to be a crank about foods, and that fresh vegetables and fruit are a large part of your diet, so diet apparently isn't the factor in your case. There are also other causes of sterility, information regarding which I suggest you seek of your family physician.

Why don't you adopt a baby? You would not have it for a day before you would feel that it was your own and you would never know the difference. It is the greatest mistake in the world for childless couples who want children not to adopt them.

There are organizations and societies from which you can secure babies. Tests are made to determine whether they are free from congenital diseases or not. As far as the mentality is concerned, that could not be determined until later on in babyhood—seven or eight months, but if you are worried about that, adopt a child a little older. But adopt one.

I know of a woman who after years of childlessness, adopted a baby and then she had six of her own. You can't tell but what the happiness the adopted baby brought so altered her condition that she could have her own.

"Dear Doctor:—Since beginning to follow your directions on reducing, I have lost 45 pounds in weight, six inches around the waist and three inches around the chest. I have still a long way to go yet.—N."

You did not state your weight. If you lost 45 pounds and still have a long way to go, your displacement must have been considerable. The extra pamphlet has been sent to you if you enclosed four cents and s. a. s. e. with your request. Did you do that? If not, try again.

Mrs. B.:—The length of the menopause varies. Sometimes the menstruation periods cease abruptly, and other times gradually. Your overweight may give you many of the symptoms you complain of. (We have an article on goitre which you may have by sending s. a. s. e.)

L. J.—You should see an oculist about your eyes. There is apparently some weakness or strain that is causing the lowered resistance. Meanwhile, get a little tube of one per cent of yellow oxide of mercury and rub on a little of the ointment each night. Massaging the eyelids gently may help make your eyelashes grow. I don't know. The length and size of them seem to be an inherited characteristic, but the hair is affected by the general condition of the body.

Miss S.—According to the rule of 110 pounds for five feet in height and five and one-half pounds for every inch over that—for five feet and five inches, you should weigh around 137. You say you weigh 115, so you are some 20 pounds underweight. You probably have not been eating enough to have normal weight and in not eating enough you have not gotten the elements your system needs and you may be suffering from latent scurvy or a starvation acidosis. That probably accounts for the condition you speak of. Build up your general health. Send for our instructions on gaining. Don't forget to enclose four cents in stamps with your s. a. s. e.

Mrs. E.:—No matter what is the cause for the irritation of the bladder, a diet which makes the urine non-acid is essential. And a diet which gives a non-irritating urine will also improve your general health—plenty of water and milk, liberal amounts of vegetables and fruit, small amounts of meats, white bread and sweets and salt.

Tomorrow—Answers to Mothers

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s. a. s. e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

In response to a recently published request for Checker-Board Cake recipes, the following contributions have come in. Indeed, I have received nineteen recipes for this cake, but, because of lack of space, it may take me some time to publish them all.

Mrs. C. S.: "Cream together one cup of butter and two cups of granulated sugar, then add one and one-third cups of sweet milk alternately with four cups of pastry flour and six teaspoons of paking powder sifted together. Flavor with one teaspoon of vanilla, then fold in six stiffly-beaten egg whites. Now divide this batter into equal halves, and into one half stir four ounces or squares of bitter chocolate, melted."

"To Put Batter in Four Layer Cake Pans: Drop a small dab of white batter in the middle of one pan and smooth it with a case-knife so as to form a circle one and one-half inches in diameter. Place a ring of dark batter around this, making the ring three-quarters of an inch wide. Add a ring or circle of white the same width around the dark circle. Add another dark and another light circle, then outside of all place a dark circle (this last circle will touch the edges of the pan, making six circles in all—three white, three chocolate). Now take the second pan and alternate these six circles, beginning with a dark center instead of with a white. Make two layers with dark centers and two with white centers and put them together with the following icing, having light rings over dark and vice versa. These layer cake pans should measure nine inches in diameter. Bake for twenty minutes in a hot oven."

"Icing: Heat one-half cup of cream and pour it over the beaten yolks of two eggs; add this mixture gradually to two pounds of confectioners' sugar and mix smooth. Thin to right consistency to spread with boiling water, then add four ounces of chocolate melted and one teaspoon of vanilla. Spread between layers and on top."

Mrs. J. L.: One and one-half cups of sugar, one-fourth cup of butter, one cup of sweet milk, and two and one-half cups of flour sifted with two teaspoons of baking powder and one-fourth teaspoon of salt. Flavor with one teaspoon of vanilla, and fold in the stiffly-whipped whites of three eggs. Separate one-third of this batter and color it dark by adding one and one-half squares of chocolate melted, and one-half extra teaspoon of vanilla. Fill three layer cake pans, having two with the outer batter rings of white, and one with a dark outer ring; put this dark outer ring layer between the other two when you put the cake together with icing. (I use pasteboard circles in the pans when putting in the batter rings, then pull these out before baking.)

Chats On Beauty

By EDNA KENT FORBES

SUMMER HEAT

The brilliant brain that invented the idea of calling bad breath by a scientific name, and thereby pulled out its sting, or its offence as a physical complaint, deserves to make a fortune. Indeed, from the amount of advertising his idea has had, I fancy he is making one. I have an idea just as brilliant, suggested by his, which I present free to all makers of antiseptic powders. One cannot talk about excessive, ill-smelling perspiration in very polite society, one can talk all day about Hyperhidrosis, which is its scientific Greek-derived equivalent.

To those, then, who suffer from hyperhidrosis, during the summer months, or any months, let me recommend Dr. Muller's formula:

Peruvian Balsam	1 gramme
Formic Acid	5 grammes
Hydrate of Chloral	5 grammes
Absolute Alcohol	100 grammes

to be made up by your druggist.

There are many women who are abnormally sensitive on the subject of perspiration, just as on the subject of bad breath. It's not always the person's fault. There are all sorts of physical troubles that cause an odorous perspiration, some of the healthiest people, too, seem to have "strong skins." But I never knew of a case that wasn't helped by a daily hot bath with a mild soap liberally used, followed by a cool or cold rinse. Where there is any odor or even odorless, but excessive, perspiration, the bath should be followed by talcum or by a mildly antiseptic powder.

I have a simpler formula for ordinary hot weather perspiration, if any reader cares to write for it. It can be made at home.

Pearl—If you use witch hazel as an astringent it will not hurt your lashes or brows in any way.

Brownie—In taking any reducing exercise your own exhilaration derived thereby will be the test of the length of time for its continuance. Be systematic about this and exercise until you feel you have gained.

Brown Eyes—Consult the doctor about your skin having this tendency to become dried so it peels off.

This Powder Neutralizes Perspiration

A. B. C.—I will be glad to send you a formula for a tonic for oily hair upon receipt of a stamped self-addressed envelope for mailing.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be asnwered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

PLANS RAIDS ON FOES' TERRITORY

La Follette Will Campaign In Eastern States In Race for Office

By KENNETH CLARK
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Senator Robert La Follette's heaviest campaign guns will be fired in the eastern political battlegrounds this fall.

At La Follette's own request plans were being worked out by his managers today for a strenuous drive along the Atlantic seaboard, straight into the heart of what is called "enemy territory."

In the agricultural west, La Follette's lieutenants already claim the largest vote for their chief. La Follette, himself, was said to be sanguine about his prospects in the East, especially in the larger industrial centers. If he can find a "strong Eastern Democrat" as running mate, for whom his managers are searching, La Follette feels there is an excellent chance to swing several coast states into his column this fall.

May Tour West

Every day La Follette's office also is besieged with letters and telegrams urging him to come to the Pacific coast. Although his managers have advised him against too strenuous a speaking tour, it was learned that La Follette himself is seriously considering a three or four week trip in October that will take him along the northern states to the coast, returning through the southwest and concluding the campaign just before election with a rally meeting in Cleveland's great public hall, where he was endorsed for the presidency by the progressive political action.

File New Complaint in Suit for $4800

LOS ANGELES, July 17.—Alleyne von Schrader and Irene Bond von Schrader today filed an amended complaint in their suit against the Bolivar Holding corporation and the Milton Realty company, et al., for $4800 which they allege was invested in one of the "own your own apartments" in the El Bolivar, pictured as a fourteen story structure on the Ocean Front at Long Beach.

Fraud, excessive commissions, and other charges are made in the complaint, it being alleged that only $30,000 assets remain from $322,000 of the $2,000,000 stock issue which was sold.

PLAN ADDITIONS AT COUNTRY CLUB

Sunset Canyon Organization To Spend $75,000 on New Building Grounds

BURBANK, July 17.—The large clubhouse started some years ago by the Sunset Canyon Country club and abandoned after $40,000 had been expended on the foundation and first story, is to be completed at once at an additional cost of $75,000, announces H. J. Tremain, president of the club.

It is also planned to purchase an additional sixty-seven acres tributary to the club grounds on the east, for the purpose of enlarging the golf course, Mr. Tremain states. To carry on the improvements contemplated, a membership of 1800 will be necessary, making this one of the largest country clubs in Southern California.

Married in Chicago

Arthur E. Snow left Burbank recently and drove to Chicago, Ill., in eight and one-half days. Arriving there he married the inspiration of his trip. The happy couple then started on the return trip to Burbank, taking three times as long to drive back. Mr. Snow recently arrived here with his bride and they have gone to housekeeping in the home he bought at 815 North Magnolia avenue.

Rev. Simmons, Rev. Stevenson, Samuel Stoner and all the Y. M. C. A. boys have returned home from their two weeks' outing at Catalina Island, where they had been having a fine time. Rumor has it that the sun has done such odd things to Sam Stoner that his friends will have some difficulty in recognizing him.

SCOUTS TO OPEN CAMP IN CANYON

Sixty-seven Youths on List For Two Weeks of Fun And Vacation

LANKERSHIM, July 17.—Today is a gala day for Boy Scouts of the San Fernando valley, marking the opening of the annual encampment at Elizabeth canyon. According to Delmar von Glahn, Scout executive, sixty-seven boys made up the roster for the first two weeks' encampment.

It is expected to have the new swimming tank in readiness within two days, and that the boys will put it to good use seems certain. The rock dam for storing water, constructed by the boys, is satisfactory, and the pipe connections for conveying water to the plunge have been laid, so that everything is in readiness for a rousing send-off.

The following troops, together with the number of boys from each that have filed applications for the camp with the executive, are: Troop 4, San Fernando, 15 boys; Troop 6, Lankershim, 20 boys; Troops 15 and 16, San Fernando, 32 boys; Pacoima troop, not registered, 10 boys.

Gets Appointment

W. P. Whitsett of Van Nuys was recently appointed by Mayor George E. Cryer as a member of the Public Service commission, to succeed John A. Burton, resigned.

Mr. Whitsett has been identified with the growth and development of Van Nuys, San Fernando valley and Greater Los Angeles for the past fifteen years, which have wrought the change from the semi-arid fields into a veritable garden spot of suburban homes, thriving ranches and model towns.

Coming to California in 1906, Mr. Whitsett became actively engaged in real estate development, and, on February 22, 1911, was a principal in the establishment of Van Nuys, and one of the men responsible for its progress since that time. Today this one-mile square townsite is the home of more than 7000 people and the trading center of a tributary community of more than 20,000.

Scouts Return After Holiday at Catalina

LA CRESCENTA, July 17.—The Boy Scouts have returned to La Crescenta, sunburned but enthusiastic over the nine-day vacation spent at Catalina Island.

The camp was organized into camp troops, tents and patrols, with Boy Scouts as officers over each, and was operated on merit system.

A Glendale Scout, Glen Martin of troop 5, won the first prize, a gold-plated flashlight, and Don Taylor of troop 2, Eagle Rock, won the second prize.

The local Scouts who were on the trip were Maurice Crawford, Herbert Coke, Frank Klatt, Archie Potter, Jack McDonald, G. Walter Smith and Gordon McDonald.

That's All

Harmful To Honest Men Bond Issues And Interest There Should Be Revenue Chief Fraser's Auto Check

—By Gil A. Cowan—

To the discredit of Southern California, gambling is found in the social circles of winter tourists. More than $300,000 was lost last season in Pasadena, according to startling statements made by a police official speaking before a luncheon club.

There is no doubt but what many gambling establishments flourish in Los Angeles and its environs and certainly no one can estimate the toll exacted by Tia Juana, which is largely visited by San Diego tourists.

However, it may have a compensating effect—this gambling—if those who lose can well afford the luxury. For it is a certainty that the ill-gotten gains of the gamblers will be well invested. They have that habit.

Gambling is not to be condoned and people who play for stakes of any size are inviting catastrophe financially. Innocent enough, perhaps, the social card games, the wheels of fortune at a carnival, or the raffling of a quilt by some aid society, but the gambling of dollars in any form tends to make criminals out of honest men.

Worst of all, such activity engages time which could be better used.

Did you digest the report of the various bond committees for the betterment of Glendale? As published in The Glendale Evening News last night the casual observer would be prone to remark that this city has nothing else but—problems to be met by bond issues.

There are many things for which bond issues are not fitted. They are most desirable in financing utilities, but they should not be promoted to pay for public improvements which should come from out of the current tax charges.

The reason for this is simple. Bonds mean that in the last analysis just twice the price is paid. Cities have been known to pay $80,000 in interest on a $60,000 bond issue. Of course, that is the exception and certainly poor judgment was shown by the officials in not retiring the issues serially.

Bonds are the same as mortgages. Another way of borrowing money, that's all. Personally, one takes great care in asking credit.

A city should hold the same high regard for its financial integrity.

In the past Glendale has done so.

The time has come when schools and highways should be built from direct levies, rather than bonds, in the writer's belief. It has become altogether too easy for a district, section or state to go forth on a spree of bonding and awaken later with a terrible headache.

Financiers advocate bonds, attorneys advocate bonds, officials advocate bonds and the public buys bonds. But it pays doubly over which no individual would do—if he thought the second time.

In cases of power and light where there is income and a reserve fund being built, like in industries, bonds assist in spreading the profits of the enterprise. Which is a horse of another color.

Another feature of the financial world which does not appeal highly to the writer is the unit stock selling scheme. Usually it is two shares of common and one preferred for the par value of the latter. Out of this must come promotion, from the profits must come interest on the preferred and salaries for the executives controlling the balance of power. Somewhere along the line there is not one, but many opportunities, of making only the minimum return.

Much better buy real estate in Glendale.

Police Chief John D. Fraser is to be commended on having his officers make an accurate check on traffic violations in the city of Glendale.

The publication of that report will do more to cause thinking drivers to "slow down a bit" than chasing them through the streets with "revenoo" collectors, as some communities are prone to do.

No fair-minded person would criticize an officer doing his duty in a just manner, but there are times when too zealous efforts border on the fanatic, a trait too well known in humans to be reviewed.

But there was a day when they burned old women at the stake, claiming they were witches. In this age on the testimony of one complaining officer they extract thousands of dollars annually from the pockets of motorists who would rather not argue the matter when the cards are "stacked."

And that's that.

Cirrus clouds furnish one of the best means of foretelling weather changes.

PICK BOUNDARIES OF NEW BOROUGH

New L. A. Charter Goes Into Effect Next July; Make Plans Now

EAGLE ROCK, July 17.—The local Chamber of Commerce is at work perfecting the boundaries of the future borough of Eagle Rock, as provided for in the new Los Angeles city charter which will go into effect next July. Professor J. C. Shedd of Occidental college heads the committee working on the project. He is assisted by C. W. Young and Andrew Wilson.

That this will be a big thing for Eagle Rock is best evidenced by the fact that it will bring a larger territory to the section and will make Eagle Rock better known to the world.

With the Chamber of Commerce, the Merchants' association and the residents all working towards the one end, residents feel it will mean a new era for Eagle Rock. Right now is the time to start working.

The preliminary routine, previous to the publication of notices of improvement for the Eagle Rock sewer district, is now in order, following announcement that the Bent Concrete Pipe company is to furnish the material for the work. The clay pipe petition, circulated here some weeks ago, was found to fall short of the required number of signatures, bearing a little over 18 per cent, according to the final official count.

Considerable mixup was occasioned in counting the signatures, and checking up on their authenticity, owing to the fact that four petitions were circulated, among them one which stipulated that persons should not sign either petition, but leave the final decision in the matter solely to the officials in Los Angeles. Many local people, confused as to what they were signing, placed their names on both the clay and concrete pipe petitions. In this manner a number of signatures were lost, but the concrete pipe company won the contract to furnish the material.

GLENDALE FIELD DRAWS NEW FIRM

Los Angeles Concern Takes Over Management of Robinson Bros.

The California Fireproof Storage company, with a record of more than sixteen years of successful business in southern California, announces that it has taken over the management of Robinson Brothers, together with its modern fireproof storage building and all equipment, at 403 South Central avenue.

F. M. Brock, secretary and treasurer of the company, has lived in Eagle Rock for several years and has watched the growth of Glendale and the increased prosperity of this locality, and decided to establish here and devote his entire time to Glendale and her requirements.

Four-Fold Service

The California Fireproof Storage company states that there will be no interruption in the service always accorded, but, with more extensive resources, they plan to increase the scope of their activity in every possible way to make their service a four-fold one of moving, packing, shipping and storage.

F. L. Allen is president of the company. Two large warehouses in the West Pico street district of Los Angeles are owned by the company.

Mr. Brock, who is taking active charge at Glendale, extends to the Glendale people his most cordial invitation to become acquainted with the new management and to visit the large establishment on South Central avenue.

Two Girls Hurt When Coupe Is Overturned

A light coupe containing four young women from Los Angeles was overturned at 8:30 o'clock last night at the corner of Brand boulevard and California avenue, when, in negotiating a turn, it became entangled with a car driven by Clarence E. Glines of 705 West California avenue.

Miss Geraldine Hearne, one of the occupants of the coupe, was badly shaken up and was taken to the Glendale hospital, where she was examined by Dr. John D. Rogers and advised to remain at the hospital over night, which she did. Miss Elizabeth Chequer, another occupant of the coupe, received a cut on the right knee. The other two occupants were Doris Chequer and Elizabeth Dodd.

ACTRESS GREETS STORE'S PATRONS

Many Throng to Opening Of Latest Addition to Piggly-Wiggly

Five thousand, two hundred and thirty-three persons passed through the turnstiles last Saturday when the thirty-fifth Piggly-Wiggly store in Southern California was opened at Santa Ana. And as they passed through, examining the conveniences afforded by the "help-yourself" shopping center, they were greeted by Dorothy Dore, screen star, who demonstrated the Piggly-Wiggly method of shopping.

The Santa Ana store, the sixth to be opened by the California Piggly-Wiggly company in Southern California this year, making the thirty-fifth in this district, was thronged from early morning until late at night. President Arthur C. Jones, superintendent of Stores George Weller, Edward F. Stanton, and other officials attended the opening, aiding the screen star in taking care of the throngs who crowded the place to welcome the new business institution.

Official Hostess

Miss Dore, who played with Harold Lloyd in "Girl Shy," and lately completed an important role in "The Legend of Hollywood" with Percy Marmont and Zazu Pitts, after leaving the Mack Sennett bathing beauty bevy, went to Santa Ana early Saturday morning and spent the day at the store, acting as official hostess. She greeted the Santa Ana housewives who attended the opening, demonstrating to them the Piggly-Wiggly way of shopping.

Within the next two months, four more stores are to be opened in Southern California.

Two of these will be in the city of Los Angeles, and others in Monrovia and Van Nuys.
